5-2 Decision Reverses Mahoning Courts

High Court Rules Against Simultaneous Pay Of SUB

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court ruled today against simultaneous payment of supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) and state jobless compensation.

The 5-2 decision reversed Mahoning County courts that held Ohio law permits payment of SUB and state benefits at the same time.

Lower courts upset state administration rulings that SUB payments are remuneration under Ohio law and must be deducted from state jobless benefits.

The AFL-CIO Steelworkers challenged the rulings in a suit against four steel firms and James R. Tichenor, head of the State Bureau of Unemployment Compensation. Joseph Posey, Youngstown steelworker, sued Tichenor in the second test case.

As the decision came, the Ohio AFL-CIO Council issued this statement:

"Naturally, we are disappointed at the court's ruling against supplemental unemployment benefits.

"But, since the companies involved have agreed that their laid-off employes are entitled to extra financial assistance during their periods of unemployment and are willing to give them this assistance. We are hopeful that the upcoming session of the Legislature will take whatever steps are necessary to make the payment possible.

"We again emphasize the point that the payment of SUB does not cost the taxpayers one cent."

Unionists estimated that the decision prevented distribution of about 25 million dollars in SUB payments.

The decision said that SUB benefits are not expressly authorized by statute, as appellants contended. The court added that the BUC administrator has express statutory authority to require repayment of excessive benefits received.

The majority opinion was concurred in by Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt and Judges James G. Stewart, John M. Matthias, James F. Bell and Thomas J. Herbert. Dissenting were Judges Charles B. Zimmerman and Kingsley A. Taft.

The opinion was given by the court rather than being written by an individual judge. Judge Stewart wrote a concurring opinion. Judge Taft wrote the dissenting opinion.

Republic Steel laid off Posey Aug. 1, 1957, for lack of work. He applied for unemployment benefits and was paid $33 plus a dependency allowance of $6 for the week ended Sept. 7 that year.

Informed that Posey received $31 in SUB benefits under a union contract with Republic Steel, Tichenor ordered Posey to repay $29 of his state benefits. A board of review upheld Tichenor's order and Posey appealed to Common Pleas Court in Mahoning County.

The United Steelworkers Union also filed a declaratory judgment action in the same court for a decision on the SUB issue.

Common Pleas and Appellate courts in Mahoning County reversed the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation and were in turn reversed in today's Supreme Court decision.

The high court held that during his week of unemployment, Posey performed personal services for his employer other than actual hourly labor in accordance with his employment contract. The decision held that the $31 in SUB payment he received was "renumeration for personal services"

Boy Sneaking Smoke One Theory

Probers Remain Puzzled At Cause Of School Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — While anguished parents prepared to bury their 87 children who died in Chicago's worst school fire, the puzzling cause of the fire still plagued investigators.

That it started in the base of a stairwell in the northeast corner of the brick Our Lady of Angels School was generally agreed upon. The why and the how were theories.

One police arson expert theorized a cigarette flipped carelessly into a pile of trash, a wastebasket or papers may have sparked the blaze. A schoolboy sneaking a smoke was one possibility, he said.

Flames might have smoldered for an hour, said Sgt. Drew Brown, and then whooshed up the staircase with horrifying speed.

He emphasized it only was theory.

Arson was discounted, but not ruled out.

"We always suspect arson where there is a loss of life and we cannot establish the cause of the fire," Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn said.

Three nuns died in the fire along with the children.

Three child victims, all girls, still lay unidentified in the Cook County Morgue.

The parents of three missing girls grimly maintained the dead were not their daughters.

Still missing were Bernice Cichocki, 12, Lucille Filipponio, 9, and Diane Santangelo, 9.

Morgue officials said dental records of the three will be checked against dental characteristics of the dead.

Plans for a mass funeral were announced by church officials.

Twenty-five priests visited homes of the victims seeking approval for such a service and burial Friday.

Families were told they can make separate funeral and burial arrangements if they wish.

In the hospitals the fight for the living went on.

Seventy-five of the injured still required hospitalization. Two of them were nuns and one a school janitor. Eleven children were in critical condition.

Their battle was made easier by the overwhelming response to appeals for blood and even skin for grafts. Calls from prospective blood donors across the country were so great that many were told to call later in the week and even after.

According to Sgt. Brown, his theory on the start of the fire was borne out by these facts:

It was usual practice about 2:30 p.m. for boys to take waste paper to the basement to be burned in the boiler room later by janitors.

A boy's washroom is nearby. It is a good place for a boy to steal a smoke. Old examination papers also were stored near the area.

Brown said two boys were in the northeast part of the building as late as 2:40 p.m. Monday, emptying waste baskets. That was two minutes before the first alarm was sounded. The boys said they smelled something smoldering.

But from his hospital bed James Raymond, 44, the janitor, insisted the area was clear of any refuse or stacks of papers as of last Thursday. He doubted anything was placed there Friday, a school holiday.

The FBI stood by in the case, saying "it is maintaining a liaison with Chicago officials to see if there is any way we can assist."

36 Homes Are Destroyed In California Brush Fire

Blaze Routs Hundreds In Film Colony

Actor Lew Ayres' $50,000 Home Lost In Malibu Beach

MALIBU BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A wind-lashed fire has cut an eight-mile-wide swath from the mountains to the sea here but a massed battery of pumpers, virtually one to a house, today checked a threat to the famed film colony.

Elsewhere, flames 100 feet high roared on unchecked.

The blaze, driven by 50 m.p.h. winds, has destroyed an estimated 36 homes.

Hundreds of residents have fled the area.

The fire, perhaps set by an arsonist, burst out Tuesday on the brush and oak-studded inland slopes of the Santa Monica Mountains. The winds quickly whipped it over the crest of the hills and down canyons to the sea.

"The situation doesn't look too promising anywhere," John Barton, assistant county fire chief, said today.

The Pacific highway, U.S. 101, was blocked on either side of the fire zone. The highway, a main north-south route between Los Angeles and San Francisco, runs east and west along the coastline at this point.

The Malibu Beach film colony is on the ocean side of the highway. The flames jumped across the highway but the intensive efforts of firemen and their pumpers and residents with garden hoses checked the threat.

Firemen battled to keep the blaze out of Malibu Canyon, but lost the fight just before dawn when flames 100 feet high roared over the top of the last ridge and bore down on the homes half a mile below.

The fire has already destroyed several expensive homes, among them the $50,000 hilltop house of actor Lew Ayres.

Property on ranches owned by actors Ronald Reagan and Bob Hope was damaged. Actor Glen Ford evacuated his flame-threatened ranch, trucking out several head of prize cattle with him.

The famed film colony of Malibu Beach lay only a mile from the leaping flames and residents stood by through the night playing water on their homes. One of them was actor Jackie Coogan, who canceled a television appearance Tuesday night to watch over his house.

Fire officials said the blaze may be worse than the mammoth Malibu fire two years ago that burned for five days, blackening 42,000 acres and destroying 99 homes. Some of the same ground is being burned over now, but most of the fire is in the hills running down to the picturesque seashore about 20 miles from Los Angeles.

Eight firemen were burned when a sudden wind shift sent the blaze roaring back at them. They fought through to safety but were hospitalized with first-degree burns on their faces and hands.

Evacuation centers were set up in three schools along the ocean side of the hills. More than 150 persons were bedded down in them.

"This thing has gone crazy," said County Fire Chief Keith Klinger, who is directing more than 1,000 men on the fire lines.

The possibility that an arsonist set the fire is being investigated.

WHITE-HOT FLAMES boiling up and down hillsides in the Malibu, Calif., area quickly skeletonized this house and then continued on their way racing toward the ocean. (UPI Telephoto)

Council Votes Parking Plan For Wellsville

One-Side Zone Due In Center St. Section Despite Objections

Legislation creating one-side parking on a section of Center St. passed third and final reading by 4-2 vote at a meeting of Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

Council also amended the 1958 appropriation ordinance to provide funds for projects not originally included.

Councilmen Ancel Moore, street and light chairman, and Robert Taggart opposed the one-side parking on Center between 12th and 15th Sts. They also fought the legislation at the last meeting.

Prior to adoption, a letter was read from Police Chief John Hephner concerning parking on various streets.

He said "I would like to express my views to members of City Council on parking problems that exist on certain streets. In 1951 we measured various streets in Wellsville and at that time I was of the belief that all streets 28 feet in width and under should be parking on one-side. I still am of the same belief but would recommend that each street be considered individually and not in a package plan."

The letter was referred to the street and light committee. Moore mentioned the letter before voting, asserting that Center St. is 30 feet wide while Chief Hephner feels only streets 28 feet should have one-side parking.

The appropriation amendment calls for $150 be taken from the poor relief fund for the salary of a clerk to be hired at $1.55 an hour, for $110 from the sewer construction and alteration and $160 from the sewage disposal construction funds to pay Squire, Sanders & Dempsey of Cleveland, the city's bonding attorneys.

As 'Full-Time' Governor

DiSalle Promises Clean Operations

TOLEDO, (AP)—It was quite a victory clambake Ohio's Democratic leaders tossed in Toledo Tuesday. But a lecture on clean government went with it.

Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle told about 500 visitors to his hometown he is going to have a decent, honorable four-year administration—no matter what.

DiSalle delivered his lay-it-on-the-line lecture at the same meeting he appointed William L. Coleman, the state Democratic chairman, as his patronage czar.

The policy meeting of the 88 county chairmen, the several hundred state central and executive committee members — wives and husbands included—was one of the biggest and most businesslike held by Ohio Democrats in recent years.

The full-day meeting gave every indication DiSalle is preparing to organize both his administration and the state's Democratic Party for efficient operation.

And Coleman indicated even greater organization and financial effort to extend Democratic gains beyond last month's landslide.

DiSalle told his party's leaders that he plans to be a full-time governor. He will accept no speaking engagements before late next summer which require travel; he will not get involved in ceremonial functions; he will attend no ribbon cuttings.

The reason: "I have a lot of work to do. We are facing some of the most serious problems in state government in 20 years, most of them financial. There is a legislative program to be drawn up and enacted."

The governor-elect disclosed he is dissolving the Toledo law firm of DiSalle, Green and Haddad with which he has been associated since 1947.

His lecture to the party leaders who will be making recommendations of job-hungry Democrats for state positions ran something like this:

"We must modify the old 'to the victor belongs the spoils' theory to read: 'to the victor belongs the responsibility of administering the affairs of government in the best interests of both the people and the party.'

"Well-organized political parties are essential to the functioning of government. But it is essential that the party be kept clean and respectable.

"Be certain that those who would subvert or corrupt our party do not infiltrate this administration.

"We can't do a good job with bad people. I know there will be disappointed people.

"We intend to run credit checks on all candidates for major appointments, just as if they had applied for million-dollar insurance policies. Even that is no guarantee against dereliction. The only thing we could do in such a case is to remove the offender.

"Some county chairmen say they want recognition. There are many ways to define recognition, but the only recognition we give you chairmen will be along decent and proper lines."

The roster of visitors to the unusual party-policy meeting was a long one.

22 To Attend Hearing For Road To Lake

Wellsville Council Urges Extension To Yellow Creek Point

A 22-man delegation will represent East Liverpool, Wellsville and Columbiana County at a public hearing scheduled by the State Highway Department Thursday at 1 p. m. in Warren on the proposed route of the Ohio River-Lake Erie Freeway.

The East Liverpool group will represent the city government and the Chamber of Commerce while the Wellsville delegation will speak for the city's Chamber. The countywide representation will include State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon and A. P. Morris of Salem, head of the Columbiana County Motor Club.

At least two members of the East Liverpool delegation are scheduled to speak, explaining that the community is in favor of the route as detailed in legal advertisements published in area newspapers within the last few weeks.

They are Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, speaking for the city government, and William B. Cooper, president of the Chamber.

The plan calls for the four-lane road to connect river ports at East Liverpool with Lake Erie ports at Ashtabula.

In addition to Cooper, the Chamber will be represented by Donald Ogilvie, Harry Y. George, C. W. Ashbaugh, William Black, Alvin T. Babb, Robert P. Guyton, J. W. Sutphen, Howard Parsons and E. R. Chandler, secretary.

Atty. Francis H. Lang will appear as president of the Ohio Riv-

Driver Changes Plea In Road Death Charge

Charles F. Tullis, 45, of Rogers, charged with manslaughter in a traffic death, changed his plea to guilty Tuesday before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard and requested probation.

Tullis, a trucker, was indicted by the September Grand Jury for involuntary manslaughter in the death of Fred Ware, 60, of Glenmoor. Tullis' truck hit the rear of a car in which Ware was a passenger on Route 7 near Rogers Aug. 6.

Tullis pleaded innocent at arraignment Sept. 22. Judge Buzzard yesterday continued Tullis' bond and directed a probation investigation be made.

Freezing Rain Brings Tieups In Area Travel

State and county highway cindering crews were called out at midmorning as freezing rain mixed with sleet glazed district roads in a new onslaught of early winter.

The Ohio Weather Bureau had issued a warning of the expected condition and the first icing appeared in the county about 9 a.m. The State Highway Department garage at Leetonia soon had all 18 truck crews fanning out to cinder the slick hills and curves.

The freezing continued until temperatures began climbing slowly and the weatherman said it will change to rain this afternoon.

Dam 8 at Newell reported a light drizzle about 10 a. m. as the mercury hovered around 30 degrees — 2 below freezing.

"Everything in the county is tied up," Cpl. John Miller of the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said this morning as traffic snarled on the mirrorlike roads.

No accidents had been reported by 10 a. m. Cpl. Miller said, but trucks and cars were stopped almost everywhere on hills and grades throughout the district.

He said the first tieups were reported about 9 as the freezing rain moved in.

The officer said Route 7 was

Mexico Reportedly Nipped Red Plot To Stone Dulles

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mexican authorities were reported today to have thwarted a Communist plot to stone Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at Mexico City this week.

Dulles was there Sunday, Monday and Tuesday as head of the U.S. delegation to the inauguration of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Advices reaching Washington said Mexican police were alerted last week to clandestine plans for an anti-Dulles campaign along these lines:

1. Stone-throwing by students of the University of Mexico, at the instigation of the Communist youth movement.

2. Wearing of black ties, a symbol of death, by demonstrators.

3. Whistling, a traditional Latin American insult.

4. Distribution of 50,000 anti-Dulles leaflets and telephone calls to the U.S. Embassy saying, "Dulles, get out."

U.S. Ambassador Robert C. Hill was reported gravely concerned. Memories are still fresh of the rough treatment accorded Vice President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon in Venezuela last May. Hill consulted with Mexican officials last week and, it was said, these steps followed:

1. Outgoing President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines offered known Communists and agitators an alternative — get out of town during Dulles' visit or go to jail.

2. Police rounded up and jailed potential trouble makers still around.

3. Student leaders at the university were asked to keep their classmates in line. They apparently did, for no stone throwing was reported.

4. Demonstrators were dispersed as quickly as they assembled, and the whistling, black ties and red circles never materialized.

5. A print shop was raided and leaflets confiscated, although about 10,000 of them apparently got out on the street over the weekend.

Teamsters Local Asks Injunction Be Lifted

WEIRTON — Teamsters Local 438 with headquarters in Steubenville, has asked the West Virginia Supreme Court to set aside Hancock County Judge J. H. Brennan's injunction against picketing.

The injunction, obtained by Toms' Express Inc., of Weirton, prohibits the teamsters from picketing the firm which began Nov. 3.

The teamsters said in their petition that the Circuit Court had no jurisdiction in the matter and said the problem should be settled by the National Labor Relations Board under a provision of the Taft-Hartley Act.

U.S. Will Fire Satellites Carrying Mice, Monkeys

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will begin firing a series of big satellites from the new Vandenberg Base in California in the next few weeks. Some of them will carry mice and monkeys.

The Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency announced today that the "Project Discoverer" program will try to put up a 1,300-pound device in its first launching attempt "late this year or early next year."

At least a dozen satellite launchings will be attempted, as fast as one a month, Roy Johnson, ARPA director, told newsmen.

Johnson also said that an attempt will be made next year to recover a capsule from a satellite, bringing it back through the atmosphere.

Johnson said mice will be used and, "We may, in one, use a primate."

He said that the program, for the present, does not include sending up a man.

5-2 Decision Reverses Mahoning Courts

High Court Rules Against Simultaneous Pay Of SUB

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court ruled today against simultaneous payment of supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) and state jobless compensation.

The 5-2 decision reversed Mahoning County courts that held Ohio law permits payment of SUB and state benefits at the same time.

Lower courts upset state administration rulings that SUB payments are remuneration under Ohio law and must be deducted from state jobless benefits.

The AFL-CIO Steelworkers challenged the rulings in a suit against four steel firms and James R. Tichenor, head of the State Bureau of Unemployment Compensation. Joseph Posey, Youngstown steelworker, sued Tichenor in the second test case.

As the decision came, the Ohio AFL-CIO Council issued this statement:

"Naturally, we are disappointed at the court's ruling against supplemental unemployment benefits.

"But, since the companies involved have agreed that their laid-off employes are entitled to extra financial assistance during their periods of unemployment and are willing to give them this assistance. We are hopeful that the upcoming session of the Legislature will take whatever steps are necessary to make the payment possible.

"We again emphasize the point that the payment of SUB does not cost the taxpayers one cent."

Unionists estimated that the decision prevented distribution of about 25 million dollars in SUB payments.

The decision said that SUB benefits are not expressly authorized by statute, as appellants contended. The court added that the BUC administrator has express statutory authority to require repayment of excessive benefits received.

The majority opinion was concurred in by Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt and Judges James G. Stewart, John M. Matthias, James F. Bell and Thomas J. Herbert. Dissenting were Judges Charles B. Zimmerman and Kingsley A. Taft.

The opinion was given by the court rather than being written by an individual judge. Judge Stewart wrote a concurring opinion. Judge Taft wrote the dissenting opinion.

Republic Steel laid off Posey Aug. 1, 1957, for lack of work. He applied for unemployment benefits and was paid $33 plus a dependency allowance of $6 for the week ended Sept. 7 that year.

Informed that Posey received $31 in SUB benefits under a union contract with Republic Steel, Tichenor ordered Posey to repay $29 of his state benefits. A board of review upheld Tichenor's order and Posey appealed to Common Pleas Court in Mahoning County.

The United Steelworkers Union also filed a declaratory judgment action in the same court for a decision on the SUB issue.

Common Pleas and Appellate courts in Mahoning County reversed the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation and were in turn reversed in today's Supreme Court decision.

The high court held that during his week of unemployment, Posey performed personal services for his employer other than actual hourly labor in accordance with his employment contract. The decision held that the $31 in SUB payment he received was "renumeration for personal services"

Council Votes Parking Plan For Wellsville

One-Side Zone Due In Center St. Section Despite Objections

Legislation creating one-side parking on a section of Center St. passed third and final reading by 4-2 vote at a meeting of Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

Council also amended the 1958 appropriation ordinance to provide funds for projects not originally included.

Councilmen Ancel Moore, street and light chairman, and Robert Taggart opposed the one-side parking on Center between 12th and 15th Sts. They also fought the legislation at the last meeting.

The full-day meeting gave every indication DiSalle is preparing to organize both his administration and the state's Democratic Party for efficient operation.

DiSalle told his party's leaders that he plans to be a full-time governor. He will accept no speaking engagements before late next summer which require travel; he will not get involved in ceremonial functions; he will attend no ribbon cuttings.

The reason: "I have a lot of work to do. We are facing some of the most serious problems in state government in 20 years, most of them financial. There is a legislative program to be drawn up and enacted."

The governor-elect disclosed he is dissolving the Toledo law firm of DiSalle, Green and Haddad with which he has been associated since 1947.

His lecture to the party leaders who will be making recommendations of job-hungry Democrats for state positions ran something like this:

"We must modify the old 'to the victor belongs the spoils' theory to read: 'to the victor belongs the responsibility of administering the affairs of government in the best interests of both the people and the party.'

"Some county chairmen say they want recognition. There are many ways to define recognition, but the only recognition we give you chairmen will be along decent and proper lines."

The roster of visitors to the unusual party-policy meeting was a long one.

Wellsville Council Urges Extension To Yellow Creek Point

A 22-man delegation will represent East Liverpool, Wellsville and Columbiana County at a public hearing scheduled by the State Highway Department Thursday at 1 p. m. in Warren on the proposed route of the Ohio River-Lake Erie Freeway.

The East Liverpool group will represent the city government and the Chamber of Commerce while the Wellsville delegation will speak for the city's Chamber. The countywide representation will include State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon and A. P. Morris of Salem, head of the Columbiana County Motor Club.

At least two members of the East Liverpool delegation are scheduled to speak, explaining that the community is in favor of the route as detailed in legal advertisements published in area newspapers within the last few weeks.

They are Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, speaking for the city government, and William B. Cooper, president of the Chamber.

The plan calls for the four-lane road to connect river ports at East Liverpool with Lake Erie ports at Ashtabula.

In addition to Cooper, the Chamber will be represented by Donald Ogilvie, Harry Y. George, C. W. Ashbaugh, William Black, Alvin T. Babb, Robert P. Guyton, J. W. Sutphen, Howard Parsons and E. R. Chandler, secretary.

Atty. Francis H. Lang will appear as president of the Ohio Riv-

Driver Changes Plea In Road Death Charge

Charles F. Tullis, 45, of Rogers, charged with manslaughter in a traffic death, changed his plea to guilty Tuesday before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard and requested probation.

Tullis, a trucker, was indicted by the September Grand Jury for involuntary manslaughter in the death of Fred Ware, 60, of Glenmoor. Tullis' truck hit the rear of a car in which Ware was a passenger on Route 7 near Rogers Aug. 6.

Tullis pleaded innocent at arraignment Sept. 22. Judge Buzzard yesterday continued Tullis' bond and directed a probation investigation be made.

Notice Local 94, nomination of officers will be held at meeting on Dec. 5. By order of Pres.—Ad.

Freezing Rain Brings Tieups In Area Travel

State and county highway cindering crews were called out at midmorning as freezing rain mixed with sleet glazed district roads in a new onslaught of early winter.

The Ohio Weather Bureau had issued a warning of the expected condition and the first icing appeared in the county about 9 a.m. The State Highway Department garage at Leetonia soon had all 18 truck crews fanning out to cinder the slick hills and curves.

The freezing continued until temperatures began climbing slowly and the weatherman said it will change to rain this afternoon.

Dam 8 at Newell reported a light drizzle about 10 a. m. as the mercury hovered around 30 degrees — 2 below freezing.

"Everything in the county is tied up," Cpl. John Miller of the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said this morning as traffic snarled on the mirrorlike roads.

No accidents had been reported by 10 a. m. Cpl. Miller said, but trucks and cars were stopped almost everywhere on hills and grades throughout the district.

He said the first tieups were reported about 9 as the freezing rain moved in.

The officer said Route 7 was

During Mexico City Visit

Mexico Reportedly Nipped Red Plot To Stone Dulles

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mexican authorities were reported today to have thwarted a Communist plot to stone Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at Mexico City this week.

Dulles was there Sunday, Monday and Tuesday as head of the U.S. delegation to the inauguration of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Advices reaching Washington said Mexican police were alerted last week to clandestine plans for an anti-Dulles campaign along these lines:

1. Stone-throwing by students of the University of Mexico, at the instigation of the Communist youth movement.

2. Wearing of black ties, a symbol of death, by demonstrators.

3. Whistling, a traditional Latin American insult.

4. Distribution of 50,000 anti-Dulles leaflets and telephone calls to the U.S. Embassy saying, "Dulles, get out."

U.S. Ambassador Robert C. Hill was reported gravely concerned. Memories are still fresh of the rough treatment accorded Vice President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon in Venezuela last May. Hill consulted with Mexican officials last week and, it was said, these steps followed:

1. Outgoing President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines offered known Communists and agitators an alternative — get out of town during Dulles' visit or go to jail.

2. Police rounded up and jailed potential trouble makers still around.

3. Student leaders at the university were asked to keep their classmates in line. They apparently did, for no stone throwing was reported.

4. Demonstrators were dispersed as quickly as they assembled, and the whistling, black ties and red circles never materialized.

5. A print shop was raided and leaflets confiscated, although about 10,000 of them apparently got out on the street over the weekend.

Teamsters Local Asks Injunction Be Lifted

WEIRTON — Teamsters Local 438 with headquarters in Steubenville, has asked the West Virginia Supreme Court to set aside Hancock County Judge J. H. Brennan's injunction against picketing.

The injunction, obtained by Toms' Express Inc., of Weirton, prohibits the teamsters from picketing the firm which began Nov. 3.

The teamsters said in their petition that the Circuit Court had no jurisdiction in the matter and said the problem should be settled by the National Labor Relations Board under a provision of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Harridge Quits As Head Of American League

WASHINGTON (AP) — William Harridge resigned today as president of the American League.

Harridge, who headed the league since 1931, made his decision known this morning after meeting with baseball club owners.

His retirement will become effective as soon as the league is prepared to select his successor.

Harridge, 72, joined the American League as secretary to President Ban Johnson in December 1911 and has remained with the league ever since. He was elected league secretary in 1927.

U.S. Will Fire Satellites Carrying Mice, Monkeys

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will begin firing a series of big satellites from the new Vandenberg Base in California in the next few weeks. Some of them will carry mice and monkeys.

The Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency announced today that the "Project Discoverer" program will try to put up a 1,300-pound device in its first launching attempt "late this year or early next year."

At least a dozen satellite launchings will be attempted, as fast as one a month, Roy Johnson, ARPA director, told newsmen.

Johnson also said that an attempt will be made next year to recover a capsule from a satellite, bringing it back through the atmosphere.

Johnson said mice will be used and, "We may, in one, use a primate."

He said that the program, for the present, does not include sending up a man.

Maybe The Eskimos Could Tell

In the Alaskan election, political analysts must have found what they dream about—an isolated test area.

Maybe the Eskimos could tell the analysts what they are trying to find out about politics down here in the 48 original states, where all is chaos and confusion.

What the analysts want to know is why the Republican party cannot do any better with the Eskimos than it can do with Ohioans, for example. It cannot even do as well.

The Eskimos who helped non-native voters generate a Democratic sweep in the 49th state had no ingrained reason to be mad at Republicans. They had been going along with a popular Republican governor, Mike Stepovich. They had been visted by Vice President Nixon, which is more than most states could boast of in the 1958 election. Secretary of Interior Seaton had been up there doing a first-rate job of nailing down favor with promises about outlawing salmon traps and other matters of great local importance.

Yet, when it was time to go to the polls to elect a new governor and Alaska's first congressional delegation, Alaskans — including Eskimos — lowered the boom on Republicans as if they were un-American.

IT DOES NOT seem possible that Eskimo voters could have inherited the political prejudices that sway elections in other states. It does not seem possible they could be swayed by the images of contempt and hatred dangled before voters elsewhere.

Yet, when the ballots went down, Eskimos were as allergic to Republicans as if they had been born and reared in Massachusetts or Mississippi.

This is where political analysts need to look for their answer to the question of the hour: If not from the Republican party, where is the political opposition that is the heart and core of the two-party system going to come from in the future?

The Democratic party, as the analysts know, is a political octopus — a coalition of many parts that can be cut apart and will still keep on living until it reunites. At the core is the Solid South, and among the tentacles are the political organization of the labor unions and of the Democratic party, itself. Then there are northern Democrats, eastern Democrats, the kind that inhabit New York, the kind that inhabit Boston and the kind found in California.

THE REPUBLICAN party has nothing like this in its favor. It has been frozen out of the Far North before it ever had a chance to warm up. It has no wing in the Solid South. It is fighting for its existence where it used to be strong, and it has been knocked for a loop in all places where it had grown weak.

The Eskimos in Alaska must have had a powerful reason for turning against it, and we trust the analysts will waste no time getting up there to find out what it was.

Playing His Own Game

Stopping Everything That Moves

One of the most significant boycotts ever imposed will stall dozens of ocean-going ships this week. It is regarded as the first step in a campaign to standardize shipping conditions throughout the world.

The 18 maritime and waterfront unions backing the boycott in the United States are primarily interested in forcing U.S. shipowners to give up the practice of registering ships with the governments of Panama, Liberia, Honduras and Costa Rica, to take advantage of lower taxes and operating costs.

To the extent that the boycott inconveniences U.S. owners, who account for about 40 per cent of the ships registered in this way, it will have been demonstrated that the most vulnerable point in the modern economy is motion. Anything that can suspend motion has a powerful impact.

Motion is the point, therefore, on which unionism can be concentrated with the most telling effect.

If airlines could be shut down . . .

If trucks could be stopped . . .

If railroads could be paralyzed . . .

If the maritime and waterfront unions could agree to stop ocean shipping . . .

If buses could be tied up and all the toll-takers and specialized employes on turnpikes held off the job . . .

There would have been accomplished in the United States what finally was accomplished in Great Britain in the general strike of 1926 — a state of helplessness.

Following that proof of unionism's capacity and determination to hold up a whole country in the pursuit of its aims, there was a soul-searching in Britain that produced the Trade Union Act of 1927, making participation in a strike of national magnitude a criminal offense, because the aim would be to overawe the government, itself.

Ready Or Not?

Personal transportation, the boon of the century, turns into a collective headache when snow falls.

Most drivers are totally unprepared for problems caused by snow — and by winter driving conditions in general. Some do not even have their cars ready for cold weather.

Many are totally dependent on someone else to get them out of trouble if they get into it. They do not have snow tires, chains, a usable jack, a bucket of sand or ashes, a tow rope, or even a shovel.

They do not understand why they should not spin their wheels on a snow-covered surface, turning it into an icy glare. They never have heard of so simple a trick as letting some air out of their tires, to increase traction. If they are caught in a traffic pileup, they frequently add to the confusion by running out of gas because they failed to keep the gas tank full.

But all have one firm conviction — that whatever happens to them is the fault of whatever unit of government did not sweep the streets and highways as fast as the snow fell.

The fact is that even a driver with a well equipped car and complete know-how cannot surmount all the troubles caused by snow. All drivers totally lacking in both equipment and skill would perform a public service if they stayed out of their cars and off the streets and highways whenever the snowfall reached three inches.

Keep Looking Ahead

Much-needed zoning has suffered another setback in St. Clair Township with the mass resignation of the zoning commission as the aftermath of rejection by the voters on Nov. 4 of a levy designed to help finance its program.

This is another case where a situation only has been aggravated, not solved, by the vote at the polls and the subsequent resignations.

The zoning commission may have been justified in quitting, but the township certainly would not be justified in throwing up its hands and asking: "What's the use?" Despite the fact that funds are lacking at present, efforts should be continued to plan for tomorrow through a proper zoning program.

Such a move is an obligation to the more than 600 residents who voted in favor of the levy and to those who since may have changed their opinions. The district is expanding and will continue to expand. Supervised development should go hand in hand with this growth.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The distilling industry has lifted the 22-year ban on use of women in liquor ads. Mommer has been having her cocktails openly for a generation and it is years since popper took cloves to conceal evidence of a snifter. The school kids pass all those package stores on the way to lessons at least twice a day and no longer think rum is a floor wax. Little Egbert at the supermarket with mumsey observes her include a "bottle" in the wagon with the baloney, fish chips, butter and eggs. So it is hard to figure why a beautiful woman in a liquor advertisement should shock the nation.

Beer and wine ads have shown the fair sex for years and the Distillers Institute decided there was no sense in proceeding with the idea a cocktail or highball was "for men only."

FEMININE ALLURE has long been tied into sales promotion for everything from tobacco to roofing materials. Distillers feel it is strictly mid-victorian to prohibit a touch of glamor to a sales pitch for a prepared cocktail.

Industry is smart enough not to overdo the beauty approach. There will be no resort to such slogans as "The Hostest with the mostest on the highball," "The blend that grandma always asked for" or "Promise her anything, but give her 100 proof."

THE GATE HAS already been shown to the Madison Ave. boys suggesting the use of the old bathroom standby showing an eye-filling gal in the tub saying, "All this and an after-bathing martini, too." They got tossed out faster than the fellow who suggested a motherly figure busy baking a cake in a homey kitchen and saying, "If it doesn't turn out all right there is always vodka."

Also the genius who submitted a drawing of a modern Mona Lisa under the caption: "Don't let her expression baffle you. She's thinking of the perfect daiquiri."

NOBODY IS GOING to take to drink with the excuse, "I was a teetotaler until I saw a picture of a beautiful woman in the strong-drink advertisement."

Bad influence on the young? Well, they see plenty of drinking in films, home house parties, airwave "westerns" and booze routines on some video comedians' shows.

The distillers voted not to lift the ban on TV and radio ads. (Other airwave commercials are driving enough people to drink.)

BUYER OF HIPPO at zoo sale had to pay $73 sales tax. It's this sort of thing that puts the small hippo dealers out of business.

Nicolas Rossolimo, star of the American chess team in the Munich international match, drives New York taxi on side. How does he react in stalled traffic to passenger's, "Why don't you MOVE?"

When Nelson Rockefeller spotted three pennies on floor in Washington and picked them up it proved he was not among Americans who like money but can't bother to bend over for it.

Every day in Moscow must begin with "Well, where do we throw today's monkey wrenches?"

"I do not resent any attempts to unseat me."—Carmine De Sapio, Tammany leader. Wanna bet?

Christopher Coates, director of New York's new aquarium, was once a stock broker. (Switched from bulls and bears to bullheads and barracuda?)

On a recent program Archbishop Makarios of Cyprus had an interpreter but spoke perfect English and never once needed help. He has the spiritual face of Old Testament prophet.

Hoffa Plans Airport Roadblocks

By Victor Riesel

When the fascinated citizenry turns its face from outer space it may find our inner space filled with Jim Hoffa's flying truckmen.

Victor Riesel

James R. has been studying charts and maps — and they are not celestial. He has been probing America's airports. And when he opens the Teamsters' next high command session in Miami Beach Dec. 8, he will put before the brethren a plan for organizing sky freighters — which are moving more and more transcontinental cargo.

The public may have forgotten—but Hoffa hasn't — the drive to weave transport on land, sea and in the air into his Committee on Transportation Unity.

He already has actually signed a pact with Longshoremen's Assn. and the maritime union which can tie up our big ports.

This could clog docks and back freight into railroad yards. Any such strike would force a rail freight embargo. Now Jim Hoffa is moving so he can ground such freight if a shipper tries to fly it out.

TIP OFF CAME the other day in a letter Hoffa dispatched to 22 Teamster joint councils covering as many major cities. These are the key trans-shipment points for aerial freight.

They stretch from Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Miami up to Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Wichita, Dallas, Oklahoma City, Tulsa and on to Los Angeles.

In the letter was a questionnaire, asking what airport workers were not unionized — from the washroom to the gas tanks.

Hoffa also asked if the Teamsters could effectively tie up the airport. And he wanted to know if their contracts permitted Teamsters to refuse to deliver food, supplies and fuel to airports if the grounds are picketed by another union.

Hoffa told his people that "The Research Dept. of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters will compile the results of this survey as an aid in formulating organizing plan in the air freight industry."

WHEN HOFFA analyzes the reports in the next few days, he'll know just where he can shut down an airport without runing afoul of contract violations. He'll know if food or fuel destined for a struck airline can be considered "hot cargo."

Once he knows where he can move without breaking the law or running the threat of million-dollar suits for violation of contracts, Hoffa will be set to go.

This is no sudden dramatic whim on his part. Hoffa and the Teamster leaders before him have long had their eyes on the airports. For here, too, a "silent revolution" has begun cutting down many Teamster jobs.

Freight can be loaded, for example, in a big trailer truck at a factory. The truck can be driven to a runway. Then the trailer can be lifted by huge cranes into a flying box car and flown thousands of miles. There it can be hitched to a driver's cab and driven a few miles to another plant. All very swiftly.

FOR YEARS NOW, Hoffa and his high command have been trying to get a wedge into airports. They've tied up with the Machinists Union but their real battering ram has always been considered to be the Flight Engineers Union.

Some time ago the Teamsters promised them any aid they needed. The Flight Engineers not only signed a pact but they tried to merge right into the Teamsters. They voted against ousting the truck union from the AFL-CIO.

Jim Hoffa has promised the Flight Engineers that he would respect their picket lines — which could mean in a few months that he would shut down many an airport.

This fight of the Flight Engineers against being trained to double as jet pilots has only started. Sooner or later there will be a showdown with the airlines.

After all, a presidential committee headed by David Cole has ruled that the engineers must take pilot training.

At that time Jim Hoffa will give the Flight Engineers strike relief and picket line support. Hoffa will then be airborne.

Shallow Analysis Of Defeat

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Today Meade Alcorn, chairman of the Republican National Committee, sought to explain why the Republicans lost the 1958 elections. It was a shallow analysis. He still doesn't seem to understand the disaster.

Or maybe he understands but doesn't want to be overly blunt about it.

His committee released here excerpts from the explanation he prepared for the National Assn. of Manufacturers in New York. Alcorn said: "There was a definite tide running for the opposition party from Maine to California."

He not only fell far short of explaining the full cause of the tide but skipped over the fact that this was not a new tide but a steady one which had crushed the Republicans three times in a row: in 1954, in 1956, and again this year.

Paul Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, followed Alcorn at the manufacturers' meeting with an explanation of why his party won. Butler was aggressive where Alcorn was defensive.

What Alcorn didn't explain was why the voters — in three successive elections — preferred to have the Democrats run Congress. He concentrated on his party's disaster this year, and listed these as reasons:

The big increase in unemployment in 1958; not enough campaign funds from business and professional people; lack of support from some Republicans who didn't like parts of the Republican program; injection of right-to-work proposals in several state elections, reviving the image of big business versus big labor; and tremendous financial and other help to the Democrats from organized labor.

But the most obvious possibility for the Republicans' defeat was the one Alcorn didn't mention: voters' dissatisfaction with the Republicans' performance and ideas in running the government.

Alcorn summed up: "The Republican party can never hope to recapture control of Congress until we match in money, in manpower and in organization work the efforts now being put forth by the opposition. . . . I know we have the better product to sell But we lack the sales force."

This makes it seem as though all the Republicans have to do to win in 1960 is rake in enough campaign money and ring enough doorbells. He did not mention, in his excerpted speech, a primary requisite for any party to win an election:

A performance in deeds that will make it more attractive to the voters than the opposition.

Butler in effect said the Republican party still doesn't know what time it is. He accused the Republicans of still living in the 19th century in their "scare" approach to a political campaign.

He ridiculed them for their tactics in trying to make the voters think the Democrats were "radicals" and "Socialists" and "big-spenders." He asked: "How often and how badly does the Republican party have to be beaten before it decides to give up those ridiculous tactics?"

He agreed with Alcorn that right-to-work proposals — in most of the states where they were an issue — helped drown the Republicans. But the Democrats made a national sweep and Butler said the party won on national issues.

He interpreted the 1958 election results as "a ringing repudiation of the Eisenhower administration and its failure to provide aggressive, full-time and forward-looking leadership in the areas of economic growth, employment, cost of living, labor legislation, education, defense, human rights and foreign policy."

West's Opportunity

Berlin Offers 'Free City' Principle

Berlin's crisis provides the opportunity of a lifetime.

The Communists demand that Berlin be made a "free city." The key word is "free," but the idea back of that word is too good to be limited to just one city. Why not an "all-free Europe"?

David Lawrence

To make only one city "free" is no solution. It only compounds existing problems.

The Communists sit up late at night thinking up schemes with which to worry the Western Allies. Mostly these are adventures in propaganda. The Soviets even boldly pose among their own people as "Liberators" in other lands.

In America there still is a certain timidity about using the word "liberation." John Foster Dulles mentioned it in his speeches during the 1952 presidential campaign and has not been forgiven since by his critics.

He insisted that he meant "peaceful liberation," but the Soviets managed, with considerable assistance from certain partisans in America, to make it appear that America planned to use military force to effect "liberation."

But nothwithstanding the vicissitudes that the concept of "liberation" has experienced in circles where the word betrays a sense of fear, there is merit in urging the abandonment of the "status quo" in Eastern Europe.

THIS THEME has been championed in various pronouncements of policy by the United States government, but the secret of successful propaganda is iteration and reiteration, especially at the psychological moment.

Today, for instance, when the Soviets have so deliberately, even if hypocritically, put the accent on Berlin as a "free city," the time is opportune for a broad discussion of freedom for Eastern Europe.

If a four-power conference can get the limelight on this issue, so much the better. It would be an impressive way to remind the people of the Soviet Union itself that freedom is still something they, too, may hope for some day.

Certainly the Western Allies are in a position to insist now that not only East Germany but Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania be given the status of "free cities."

There could be a transition period during which, under United Nations auspices, a plan for withdrawal eventually of all foreign troops could be offered.

The peoples of each country could be given the chance to conduct free elections and decide for themselves what military aid they need.

If countries which are truly free want foreign troops to remain on their soil, as the people of West Germany have chosen, this can be accepted as a basic principle.

But everyone knows that not one of the "satellite" states has had uncoerced voting and that each country in the Soviet orbit has against its will been occupied by military forces commanded by Moscow.

THE IMPORTANCE of Western Ground troops in Central Europe to ward off an attack by the Soviets has lately been minimized by those who think long-range missiles will make land forces unnecessary anyhow.

But with the emphasis coming nowadays from Moscow on avoiding the use of nuclear weapons altogether, ground troops take on added military value.

In recent months the Soviets, aided and abetted unwittingly by some erratic philosophers on the Western side, have been urging the withdrawal of all troops—Soviet and Western—from Europe and the abandonment of the air bases of the United States there.

From the Soviet viewpoint this is a cover-up for continued rule by the Communist apparatus.

Each nation that is really free should have the right to determine for itself what military protection it needs and wants against a potential invader.

A crusade for freedom throughout Europe by liberating the eastern "satellite" countries is one that could well engage the attention of the United States and its allies.

They stand for true freedom without any military domination whatsoever. The smaller nations know the Soviets would never take the initiative in giving them that freedom.

The whole problem, if approached from the standpoint of extending the principle of a "free city" in Berlin to encompass all of Eastern Europe, would put the Soviets on the defensive in the propaganda battles of the day.

Capping The Climax

By Truman Twill

There is a wistful glimmer of hope for bald men in the revival of the wig business. Something may come of this.

Two aspects of the revival are encouraging.

First, the wigmakers are starting to use synthetic fibers like nylon. They are getting away from the use of reclaimed human hair and animal hair, which has been a grisly handicap.

Second, the wigs they are making are in a wide assortment of colors with no pretense of resembling the color or texture of human hair.

Only one aspect of the revival is discouraging.

Women, not men, are buying the wigs. The new kind of wig is a costume accessory. Milady can have a green wig to match a green dress and so on.

But when a bald man is looking for glimmers of hope, he must take them where he can find them. Anything that breaks down the use of wigs to simulate a real head of natural hair — that puts wigs on the same easy footing as a clothing accessory — is a step in the right direction.

That was the way it was with wigs in the golden era when both women and men wore them for adornment. A blessing to the baldies was incidental to a fad that made wigs fashionable for the haired-over who broke out in hirsute adornments for fun.

No baldy now living will be around long enough to see it happen that way again. But if it once gets started, even in a limited way, among women, it might go all the way.

Here is one baldy who will hope for a break for baldies before 2000 A.D.

I have in mind a synthetic-fiber wig suitable for inside and outside wear, to take the place of a hat in winter and protection against sunshine and rain in summer.

It also would take the place of hair 365 days a year. The color would be nondescript, possibly mouse-brown. The thing could be worn into a shower bath and laundered on the spot because it would be made of non-destructible nylon or something equally hardy.

In fact, what I have specifically in mind would be like carpeting made of synthetic fabrics — the kind that can be mopped up in a jiffy with a wet sponge and is moth-proof to boot.

It would be a kind of little cap, that's what it would be. No one would be fooled. It would not be an attempt to fool anyone.

Everybody would know it was a replacement for something gone forever, just as almost everybody knows a set of hand-made teeth must be regarded as a substitute, albeit an attractive substitute, for the real thing.

The purpose would be to fill a void and cover the absence of the real thing, exactly as is the purpose of artificial teeth. People who like to keep up appearances have won this concession, like people who wear eyeglasses and wear hearing aids. No one holds it against them for admitting their imperfection.

For festive occasions, of course, a baldy could have something in bright colors, like cerise. And for formal occasions, he could have a black wig or a white one, to suit the taste.

Wig-makers of the world, what are you waiting for? Payment in advance?

Letter To Editor

Last Saturday's accident which involved Mrs. Frazier at 5th and Market Sts. brought to my mind the need for additional traffic signals at some of our busy street intersections.

There are groups standing on corners to raise money and clubs and groups donating money for this and that. Why not for something with which to save lives and help solve some of our traffic tie-ups?

My suggestion is for additional green traffic signals on all four corners on which pedestrians would walk while traffic stands still. After the green signal, the light would be turned red for pedestrians to stop and traffic to move. If a pedestrian should walk when the signal says "Don't Walk" the responsibility would be his or hers.

The corner I mentioned is only one of four on 5th and 6th Sts. where an accident similar to that of last Saturday could happen again.

Pittsburgh uses these lights, why can't we?

Maybe The Eskimos Could Tell

In the Alaskan election, political analysts must have found what they dream about—an isolated test area.

Maybe the Eskimos could tell the analysts what they are trying to find out about politics down here in the 48 original states, where all is chaos and confusion.

What the analysts want to know is why the Republican party cannot do any better with the Eskimos than it can do with Ohioans, for example. It cannot even do as well.

The Eskimos who helped non-native voters generate a Democratic sweep in the 49th state had no ingrained reason to be mad at Republicans. They had been going along with a popular Republican governor, Mike Stepovich. They had been visted by Vice President Nixon, which is more than most states could boast of in the 1958 election. Secretary of Interior Seaton had been up there doing a first-rate job of nailing down favor with promises about outlawing salmon traps and other matters of great local importance.

Yet, when it was time to go to the polls to elect a new governor and Alaska's first congressional delegation, Alaskans — including Eskimos — lowered the boom on Republicans as if they were un-American.

IT DOES NOT seem possible that Eskimo voters could have inherited the political prejudices that sway elections in other states. It does not seem possible they could be swayed by the images of contempt and hatred dangled before voters elsewhere.

Yet, when the ballots went down, Eskimos were as allergic to Republicans as if they had been born and reared in Massachusetts or Mississippi.

This is where political analysts need to look for their answer to the question of the hour: If not from the Republican party, where is the political opposition that is the heart and core of the two-party system going to come from in the future?

The Democratic party, as the analysts know, is a political octopus — a coalition of many parts that can be cut apart and will still keep on living until it reunites. At the core is the Solid South, and among the tentacles are the political organization of the labor unions and of the Democratic party, itself. Then there are northern Democrats, eastern Democrats, the kind that inhabit New York, the kind that inhabit Boston and the kind found in California.

THE REPUBLICAN party has nothing like this in its favor. It has been frozen out of the Far North before it ever had a chance to warm up. It has no wing in the Solid South. It is fighting for its existence where it used to be strong, and it has been knocked for a loop in all places where it had grown weak.

The Eskimos in Alaska must have had a powerful reason for turning against it, and we trust the analysts will waste no time getting up there to find out what it was.

Playing His Own Game

Stopping Everything That Moves

One of the most significant boycotts ever imposed will stall dozens of ocean-going ships this week. It is regarded as the first step in a campaign to standardize shipping conditions throughout the world.

The 18 maritime and waterfront unions backing the boycott in the United States are primarily interested in forcing U.S. shipowners to give up the practice of registering ships with the governments of Panama, Liberia, Honduras and Costa Rica, to take advantage of lower taxes and operating costs.

To the extent that the boycott inconveniences U.S. owners, who account for about 40 per cent of the ships registered in this way, it will have been demonstrated that the most vulnerable point in the modern economy is motion. Anything that can suspend motion has a powerful impact.

Motion is the point, therefore, on which unionism can be concentrated with the most telling effect.

If airlines could be shut down . . .

If trucks could be stopped . . .

If railroads could be paralyzed . . .

If the maritime and waterfront unions could agree to stop ocean shipping . . .

If buses could be tied up and all the toll-takers and specialized employes on turnpikes held off the job . . .

There would have been accomplished in the United States what finally was accomplished in Great Britain in the general strike of 1926 — a state of helplessness.

Following that proof of unionism's capacity and determination to hold up a whole country in the pursuit of its aims, there was a soul-searching in Britain that produced the Trade Union Act of 1927, making participation in a strike of national magnitude a criminal offense, because the aim would be to overawe the government, itself.

Ready Or Not?

Personal transportation, the boon of the century, turns into a collective headache when snow falls.

Most drivers are totally unprepared for problems caused by snow — and by winter driving conditions in general. Some do not even have their cars ready for cold weather.

Many are totally dependent on someone else to get them out of trouble if they get into it. They do not have snow tires, chains, a usable jack, a bucket of sand or ashes, a tow rope, or even a shovel.

They do not understand why they should not spin their wheels on a snow-covered surface, turning it into an icy glare. They never have heard of so simple a trick as letting some air out of their tires, to increase traction. If they are caught in a traffic pileup, they frequently add to the confusion by running out of gas because they failed to keep the gas tank full.

But all have one firm conviction — that whatever happens to them is the fault of whatever unit of government did not sweep the streets and highways as fast as the snow fell.

The fact is that even a driver with a well equipped car and complete know-how cannot surmount all the troubles caused by snow. All drivers totally lacking in both equipment and skill would perform a public service if they stayed out of their cars and off the streets and highways whenever the snowfall reached three inches.

Keep Looking Ahead

Much-needed zoning has suffered another setback in St. Clair Township with the mass resignation of the zoning commission as the aftermath of rejection by the voters on Nov. 4 of a levy designed to help finance its program.

This is another case where a situation only has been aggravated, not solved, by the vote at the polls and the subsequent resignations.

The zoning commission may have been justified in quitting, but the township certainly would not be justified in throwing up its hands and asking: "What's the use?" Despite the fact that funds are lacking at present, efforts should be continued to plan for tomorrow through a proper zoning program.

Such a move is an obligation to the more than 600 residents who voted in favor of the levy and to those who since may have changed their opinions. The district is expanding and will continue to expand. Supervised development should go hand in hand with this growth.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The distilling industry has lifted the 22-year ban on use of women in liquor ads. Mommer has been having her cocktails openly for a generation and it is years since popper took cloves to conceal evidence of a snifter. The school kids pass all those package stores on the way to lessons at least twice a day and no longer think rum is a floor wax. Little Egbert at the supermarket with mumsey observes her include a "bottle" in the wagon with the baloney, fish chips, butter and eggs. So it is hard to figure why a beautiful woman in a liquor advertisement should shock the nation.

Beer and wine ads have shown the fair sex for years and the Distillers Institute decided there was no sense in proceeding with the idea a cocktail or highball was "for men only."

FEMININE ALLURE has long been tied into sales promotion for everything from tobacco to roofing materials. Distillers feel it is strictly mid-victorian to prohibit a touch of glamor to a sales pitch for a prepared cocktail.

Industry is smart enough not to overdo the beauty approach. There will be no resort to such slogans as "The Hostest with the mostest on the highball," "The blend that grandma always asked for" or "Promise her anything, but give her 100 proof."

THE GATE HAS already been shown to the Madison Ave. boys suggesting the use of the old bathroom standby showing an eye-filling gal in the tub saying, "All this and an after-bathing martini, too." They got tossed out faster than the fellow who suggested a motherly figure busy baking a cake in a homey kitchen and saying, "If it doesn't turn out all right there is always vodka."

Also the genius who submitted a drawing of a modern Mona Lisa under the caption: "Don't let her expression baffle you. She's thinking of the perfect daiquiri."

NOBODY IS GOING to take to drink with the excuse, "I was a teetotaler until I saw a picture of a beautiful woman in the strong-drink advertisement."

Bad influence on the young? Well, they see plenty of drinking in films, home house parties, airwave "westerns" and booze routines on some video comedians' shows.

The distillers voted not to lift the ban on TV and radio ads. (Other airwave commercials are driving enough people to drink.)

BUYER OF HIPPO at zoo sale had to pay $73 sales tax. It's this sort of thing that puts the small hippo dealers out of business.

Nicolas Rossolimo, star of the American chess team in the Munich international match, drives New York taxi on side. How does he react in stalled traffic to passenger's, "Why don't you MOVE?"

When Nelson Rockefeller spotted three pennies on floor in Washington and picked them up it proved he was not among Americans who like money but can't bother to bend over for it.

Every day in Moscow must begin with "Well, where do we throw today's monkey wrenches?"

Hoffa Plans Airport Roadblocks

By Victor Riesel

When the fascinated citizenry turns its face from outer space it may find our inner space filled with Jim Hoffa's flying truckmen.

Victor Riesel

James R. has been studying charts and maps — and they are not celestial. He has been probing America's airports. And when he opens the Teamsters' next high command session in Miami Beach Dec. 8, he will put before the brethren a plan for organizing sky freighters — which are moving more and more transcontinental cargo.

The public may have forgotten—but Hoffa hasn't — the drive to weave transport on land, sea and in the air into his Committee on Transportation Unity.

He already has actually signed a pact with Longshoremen's Assn. and the maritime union which can tie up our big ports.

This could clog docks and back freight into railroad yards. Any such strike would force a rail freight embargo. Now Jim Hoffa is moving so he can ground such freight if a shipper tries to fly it out.

TIP OFF CAME the other day in a letter Hoffa dispatched to 22 Teamster joint councils covering as many major cities. These are the key trans-shipment points for aerial freight.

They stretch from Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Miami up to Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Wichita, Dallas, Oklahoma City, Tulsa and on to Los Angeles.

In the letter was a questionnaire, asking what airport workers were not unionized — from the washroom to the gas tanks.

Hoffa also asked if the Teamsters could effectively tie up the airport. And he wanted to know if their contracts permitted Teamsters to refuse to deliver food, supplies and fuel to airports if the grounds are picketed by another union.

Hoffa told his people that "The Research Dept. of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters will compile the results of this survey as an aid in formulating organizing plan in the air freight industry."

WHEN HOFFA analyzes the reports in the next few days, he'll know just where he can shut down an airport without runing afoul of contract violations. He'll know if food or fuel destined for a struck airline can be considered "hot cargo."

Once he knows where he can move without breaking the law or running the threat of million-dollar suits for violation of contracts, Hoffa will be set to go.

This is no sudden dramatic whim on his part. Hoffa and the Teamster leaders before him have long had their eyes on the airports. For here, too, a "silent revolution" has begun cutting down many Teamster jobs.

Freight can be loaded, for example, in a big trailer truck at a factory. The truck can be driven to a runway. Then the trailer can be lifted by huge cranes into a flying box car and flown thousands of miles. There it can be hitched to a driver's cab and driven a few miles to another plant. All very swiftly.

But nothwithstanding the vicissitudes that the concept of "liberation" has experienced in circles where the word betrays a sense of fear, there is merit in urging the abandonment of the "status quo" in Eastern Europe.

THIS THEME has been championed in various pronouncements of policy by the United States government, but the secret of successful propaganda is iteration and reiteration, especially at the psychological moment.

Today, for instance, when the Soviets have so deliberately, even if hypocritically, put the accent on Berlin as a "free city," the time is opportune for a broad discussion of freedom for Eastern Europe.

If a four-power conference can get the limelight on this issue, so much the better. It would be an impressive way to remind the people of the Soviet Union itself that freedom is still something they, too, may hope for some day.

Certainly the Western Allies are in a position to insist now that not only East Germany but Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania be given the status of "free cities."

There could be a transition period during which, under United Nations auspices, a plan for withdrawal eventually of all foreign troops could be offered.

The peoples of each country could be given the chance to conduct free elections and decide for themselves what military aid they need.

If countries which are truly free want foreign troops to remain on their soil, as the people of West Germany have chosen, this can be accepted as a basic principle.

But everyone knows that not one of the "satellite" states has had uncoerced voting and that each country in the Soviet orbit has against its will been occupied by military forces commanded by Moscow.

THE IMPORTANCE of Western Ground troops in Central Europe to ward off an attack by the Soviets has lately been minimized by those who think long-range missiles will make land forces unnecessary anyhow.

But with the emphasis coming nowadays from Moscow on avoiding the use of nuclear weapons altogether, ground troops take on added military value.

In recent months the Soviets, aided and abetted unwittingly by some erratic philosophers on the Western side, have been urging the withdrawal of all troops—Soviet and Western—from Europe and the abandonment of the air bases of the United States there.

From the Soviet viewpoint this is a cover-up for continued rule by the Communist apparatus.

Each nation that is really free should have the right to determine for itself what military protection it needs and wants against a potential invader.

A crusade for freedom throughout Europe by liberating the eastern "satellite" countries is one that could well engage the attention of the United States and its allies.

They stand for true freedom without any military domination whatsoever. The smaller nations know the Soviets would never take the initiative in giving them that freedom.

The whole problem, if approached from the standpoint of extending the principle of a "free city" in Berlin to encompass all of Eastern Europe, would put the Soviets on the defensive in the propaganda battles of the day.

Capping The Climax

By Truman Twill

There is a wistful glimmer of hope for bald men in the revival of the wig business. Something may come of this.

Two aspects of the revival are encouraging.

First, the wigmakers are starting to use synthetic fibers like nylon. They are getting away from the use of reclaimed human hair and animal hair, which has been a grisly handicap.

Second, the wigs they are making are in a wide assortment of colors with no pretense of resembling the color or texture of human hair.

Only one aspect of the revival is discouraging.

Women, not men, are buying the wigs. The new kind of wig is a costume accessory. Milady can have a green wig to match a green dress and so on.

But when a bald man is looking for glimmers of hope, he must take them where he can find them. Anything that breaks down the use of wigs to simulate a real head of natural hair — that puts wigs on the same easy footing as a clothing accessory — is a step in the right direction.

That was the way it was with wigs in the golden era when both women and men wore them for adornment. A blessing to the baldies was incidental to a fad that made wigs fashionable for the haired-over who broke out in hirsute adornments for fun.

No baldy now living will be around long enough to see it happen that way again. But if it once gets started, even in a limited way, among women, it might go all the way.

Here is one baldy who will hope for a break for baldies before 2000 A.D.

I have in mind a synthetic-fiber wig suitable for inside and outside wear, to take the place of a hat in winter and protection against sunshine and rain in summer.

It also would take the place of hair 365 days a year. The color would be nondescript, possibly mouse-brown. The thing could be worn into a shower bath and laundered on the spot because it would be made of non-destructible nylon or something equally hardy.

In fact, what I have specifically in mind would be like carpeting made of synthetic fabrics — the kind that can be mopped up in a jiffy with a wet sponge and is moth-proof to boot.

It would be a kind of little cap, that's what it would be. No one would be fooled. It would not be an attempt to fool anyone.

Everybody would know it was a replacement for something gone forever, just as almost everybody knows a set of hand-made teeth must be regarded as a substitute, albeit an attractive substitute, for the real thing.

The purpose would be to fill a void and cover the absence of the real thing, exactly as is the purpose of artificial teeth. People who like to keep up appearances have won this concession, like people who wear eyeglasses and wear hearing aids. No one holds it against them for admitting their imperfection.

For festive occasions, of course, a baldy could have something in bright colors, like cerise. And for formal occasions, he could have a black wig or a white one, to suit the taste.

Wig-makers of the world, what are you waiting for? Payment in advance?

Letter To Editor

Last Saturday's accident which involved Mrs. Frazier at 5th and Market Sts. brought to my mind the need for additional traffic signals at some of our busy street intersections.

There are groups standing on corners to raise money and clubs and groups donating money for this and that. Why not for something with which to save lives and help solve some of our traffic tie-ups?

My suggestion is for additional green traffic signals on all four corners on which pedestrians would walk while traffic stands still. After the green signal, the light would be turned red for pedestrians to stop and traffic to move. If a pedestrian should walk when the signal says "Don't Walk" the responsibility would be his or hers.

The corner I mentioned is only one of four on 5th and 6th Sts. where an accident similar to that of last Saturday could happen again.

Pittsburgh uses these lights, why can't we?

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I'm in love with a beautiful girl who has postponed our marriage twice. Maybe I'm too enamored of her to see the truth. Can you help me?

Her mother passed away 18 months ago. Her father seems unable or unwilling to get over it. She's an only child and he depends on her for every little thing.

She quit her job in a bank to stay at home and tend to his needs. In my opinion this is destroying her but she doesn't complain.

Her dad is semi-retired and well-to-do. I think he's buying her away from me. The last time she postponed the wedding to go on a cruise with him. I suspect he's trying to break us up so he can have his little girl to himself forever.

She claims she loves me and is begging me to be "practical." She wants us to live in their family home when we marry, but I hate the place (it's like a mausoleum) and her dad hovers over the situation like a low cloud. Please advise me.—WILL.

This low cloud could rain misery on your head for the rest of your life. If your fiance would rather take a cruise with papa than get married, the jury is in, Buster. This gal wants to have her cake and her father's baked Alaska as well. I suspect her diet is too rich for your blood. Let Papa have her.

Off His Chest

Dear Ann Landers: Your defense of the average American housewife was noble but shallow.

Most women grumble when they have to get out of bed at 11 a.m. and sort out the laundry for the man to pick up. And their kids take the bus to school or hop on a bike.

I haven't seen a home-made pie in years and neither has anyone else. Nowadays they buy them from the grocer's freezer ready to put in the oven.

And Ann, what's this about a plumber in the basement? Are you suggesting that the average American housewife has a plumber in her basement EVERY DAY?

If this be true, the odds are good that he will be upstairs having coffee with her in no time at all.

Why defend the average American housewife? She's a pig and you know it.—E. GEORGE.

Frustrated Father

Dear Ann: My wife and I are trying to bring up our 8-year-old boy properly. When he misbehaves and a licking is in order, my wife insists that I discuss the matter with the child, learn all the facts, then make sure the punishment fits the crime.

From the beginning of the questioning to the end of the spanking my wife stands around telling me what to do.

Typical comments: "You're not hitting him hard enough." Or, "You're hitting him too hard. The neighbors will think you're killing him."

Then she turns her wrath on me, accuses me of being a beast, picks on my relatives and before long I feel like giving her a few whacks, too.

The punishment is not effective because my wife insists on butting in. She says child discipline is a matter of BOTH parents. Is she right?—I.M. STYMIED.

Discipline IS a matter for both parents — but not at the same time.

First, why does your wife save the punishment until you get home? The time to get to the seat of the problem is immediately upon learning of the wrong doing.

The mother who says, "Wait till Dad gets home, you're gonna catch it," does her husband an injustice. She casts him in the role of head executioner.

If your wife is one of these delicate flowers who simply can't bear to put a hand on Junior, and insists that you do all the dirty work, you have a right to insist on administering the punishment in private with no editorial comment from the peanut gallery.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

First, why does your wife save the punishment until you get home? The time to get to the seat of the problem is immediately upon learning of the wrong doing.

The mother who says, "Wait till Dad gets home, you're gonna catch it," does her husband an injustice. She casts him in the role of head executioner.

If your wife is one of these delicate flowers who simply can't bear to put a hand on Junior, and insists that you do all the dirty work, you have a right to insist on administering the punishment in private with no editorial comment from the peanut gallery.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

snarled, along with hills leading into Lisbon. Route 30 and Route 45 between Lisbon and Salem were special trouble spots.

By 11:15 most of the main roads had been ashed and salted and traffic was moving again, Cpl. Miller reported. He said the secondary roads remained hazardous, however.

Only one accident was reported up to 11 a. m. — a minor mishap on Route 45 near Salem in which no one was injured.

A motorist who drove from Youngstown to East Liverpool over Route 7 at mid-morning reported the highway was covered with a thin sheet of ice for most of the stretch and travel was "extremely hazardous." There were traffic tie-ups on hills at Cannons Mills and Williamsport, both centering around tractor-trailers hung up on the glaze, he said.

Because the temperature is a few degrees lower outside the sheltered Ohio Valley, the freezing rain caused greater disruption of traffic in the rural regions, the motorist reported.

The Pughtown Garage of the West Virginia State Road Commission reported this morning that highways in northern Hancock County were "becoming very slippery" as a result of the freezing rain.

Six crews were busy ashing highways this morning, including Routes 30, 2 and 66. Most secondary roads have been cleared of snow drifts, officials said.

Route 22 in Weirton was jammed with traffic this morning when tractor-trailer rigs broke down at either end of the bridge across the Ohio river at Freedom Way. Normal traffic was restored after several hours when the rigs were removed.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol near Wintersville said the roads in its area also were being slickened.

There is a chance of rain or snow by Thursday night.

The mercury did not go above freezing Tuesday as the dam reported the high was 32 degrees at 3 p. m. the overnight low was a cold 20 between 3 and 4 a.m. today. The day's high range will be 32 to 36 and tonight's low will be 23 to 27.

Slippery Roads Cancel County Officials' Trip

Several county officials and clerks planning to attend conventions of county auditors, clerk of courts and recorders at Columbus turned back this morning because of slippery roads.

Members of the group which had started to drive to Columbus, returned after meeting icy roads, and were checking train connections late this morning to learn if they could go by rail. Some said they may try to drive again later today if temperatures rise.

Council received letters from Donald Miller, 496 14th St., and W. S. Swearingen, 1019 Center St., asking to be considered for the vacancy when Councilman-at-large Frank Wilson resigns. Both letters were filed. Wilson was absent.

He is expected to resign, probably at the next meeting, as he was elected county commissioner at the Nov. 4 election.

Kenneth Bell, Council clerk, probably will resign at the last meeting in January as he has to prepare year-end reports. He is county auditor-elect.

Myron Weis, Council president, said he has received verbal applications for the posts.

Council directed Bell to send a letter to Charles Noble of Columbus, State Highway director, commending the highway department "on its fine job in clearing snow from the roads." A copy will be sent W. E. Quicksall of New Philadelphia, Division 11 engineer.

Mayor William J. Shoub's report for November showed a total of $1,984.25 collected in fines and fees. Traffic book was $256.

The Rev. Kenneth Nottingham of the Free Methodist Church gave the opening and closing prayers.

3 Boy Scouts Given Tenderfoot Badges

Three members of Hanover Township Boy Scout Troop 412 received their tenderfoot badges at a meeting Tuesday evening at the Hanover Presbyterian Church at Hillendale.

The city delegation, in addition to the mayor, will be comprised of Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti, Councilman William Y. Orr, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper and Engineer George S. Bloomgren.

The Wellsville Chamber will be represented by Atty. William Bush, secretary, and Edwin Pugh. The Wellsville group expects to reiterate a suggestion that the river terminus be located at the southern end of Wellsville, rather than in East Liverpool.

Councilman J. Frederick Russell and Herbert Frischkorn, Yellow Creek Township farmer, will attend along with Bush and Pugh.

Wellsville Council Tuesday night went on record as recommending the freeway be extended from West Point to Yellow Creek.

Kenneth Bell, clerk, was directed to write a letter for Russell to take to Warren, notifying highway department authorities of the action.

Bush told a reporter later that he favors the terminus in East Liverpool as now planned. He said it is better to have the highway in the area "rather than divide and possibly not get it at all."

The meeting will be held in the Packard Music Hall at Warren, which seats about 2,500. The public hearing is one of the formalities required by law before the Highway Department can determine to proceed with construction.

Construction of the freeway stage nearest to East Liverpool is scheduled in the 1959-60 biennium. Following the approximate course of Route 30, the first stage will stretch from the city limits to the intersection of the Y. & O. Rd.

The Rev. Robert Henthorn gave the invocation.

Plans were discussed for the Christmas party to be held Dec. 16 at American Legion Post 70. Fred Huston is chairman.

Members' wives will be guests. Instead of holding a gift exchange, members will take gifts to be distributed to foster home children in Columbiana County.

Union-negotiated SUB contracts with private employers are designed to augment state benefits so that jobless workers could receive about two-thirds of their take-home pay.

Maximum state benefits are $39 a week for 39 weeks. A special session of the Legislature added 13 weeks to the regular 26-week period to help jobless workers hit by the recession until next April

Attorneys told the Supreme Court during hearings that SUB contracts cover about 270,000 of the 2,572,000 Ohio workers eligible for state benefits.

SUB contracts apply mainly in the steel, rubber, glass, automotive and electrical industries. SUB payments under various programs come from trust funds built up through deductions from employe earnings.

Estimates last summer on the amount of potential SUB payments varied from $800,000 a week by Gov. C. William O'Neill and $1,624,000 by unionists who claim they would run higher now.

Companies sued by the union were U.S. Steel, Republic, Jones & Laughlin and Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

River Pilot Recovers In Dredge Boat Mishap

A 43-year-old East Liverpool river boat pilot is in "good" condition today at City Hospital with a fractured left leg and exposure suffered Sunday night in an accident aboard a dredge boat on the Allegheny River at Rosstown, Pa.

Carris Toothman, 130 Beechwood St., pilot of the dredge Kinzua, was transferred here from the Armstrong County Memorial Hospital in Kittanning. He was discovered about 10 a. m. Monday, lying in a small boat alongside the dredge, after a harrowing experience that started when he fell down a ladder into the engine room and broke his leg.

Toothman attempted to leave the dredge, which was moored to shore, and seek help. But he fell into the river, finally managing to pull himself into the rowboat tied alongside the dredge. He stayed in the small boat from about 10 Sunday night until 10 Monday morning, when discovered by a fellow employe reporting for work.

Toothman has been a riverman about nine years. The Kinzua is operated by the Valentine Todd Towing Service.

River Pilot Recovers In Dredge Boat Mishap

A 43-year-old East Liverpool river boat pilot is in "good" condition today at City Hospital with a fractured left leg and exposure suffered Sunday night in an accident aboard a dredge boat on the Allegheny River at Rosstown, Pa.

Carris Toothman, 130 Beechwood St., pilot of the dredge Kinzua, was transferred here from the Armstrong County Memorial Hospital in Kittanning. He was discovered about 10 a. m. Monday, lying in a small boat alongside the dredge, after a harrowing experience that started when he fell down a ladder into the engine room and broke his leg.

Toothman attempted to leave the dredge, which was moored to shore, and seek help. But he fell into the river, finally managing to pull himself into the rowboat tied alongside the dredge. He stayed in the small boat from about 10 Sunday night until 10 Monday morning, when discovered by a fellow employe reporting for work.

Toothman has been a riverman about nine years. The Kinzua is operated by the Valentine Todd Towing Service.

Oklahoma wrestlers won the Big Eight team title eight straight years until beaten for the crown last spring by Iowa State.

Guidance Urged In U.S. Education

John Sachs, director of engineering and product development at the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co., advocated more stress on guidance orientation in the nation's school systems during a talk to the Rotary Club at Tuesday's luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

Holder of bachelor of science, master's and doctor of philosophy degrees in chemical engineering from Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago, Sachs also compared engineering education here to Western Europe's and gave a brief history of chemical engineering. He is a member of the club.

SACHS said he believes improvements could be made in America's system of providing equal educational opportunities for all and underscored early guidance in elementary schools as playing an important part in what a student gets out of college or higher education.

"Most European school heads know by the time a pupil is in the fourth grade the capacity of his learning ability and aptitude through intensive testing programs," Sachs declared.

"European schools thus receive a very accurate appraisal of the learning aptitude of their children," he said, "not 100 per cent, but enough to know what students will learn most rapidly.

"This is our trouble," he pointed out. "We should place emphasis on utilizing our children's time in school and should tailor the curriculum accordingly to produce well-adjusted adults."

—:—

IN ANSWERING the question, "How Can We Improve Our System in This Respect?", Sachs urged the group to change its attitudes and demand more orientation and guidance at the elementary level so "students won't flounder along in high school."

"We need to be more selective in our classrooms so students will have more interest in school," Sachs said. "Our system fosters the idea that children stay in school until they are 16 years old."

He cited juvenile problems in New York City as reflecting this weakness in the educational system.

In comparing a German engineer's training with that of an American, Sachs pointed out that in West Germany, a student studies 80 per cent chemistry, while the American student receives only 25 per cent of such classwork.

—:—

"BESIDES 20 PER cent of time spent studying chemistry, he said, 10 to 15 per cent is used for studying other engineering courses such as mechanics, 15 per cent in mathematics, 10 per cent in physics and the balance in cultures," he explained.

"After graduation from school," he continued, "55 per cent of German chemists begin work in production, as compared to 28 per cent in America."

The remaining group of engineers find work in design, management, consultation, teaching sales and other fields, in that order, he said. Twenty per cent of the German engineers work in research and other divisions.

—:—

DISCUSSING a brief history of chemical engineering, Sachs said the first class began in 1888 at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and included special courses in industrial chemistry.

"It's importance grew after World War I," he said, and he listed accomplishments of Russians in the past several years as reason for "acceleration of scientific training in the U. S."

He was introduced by Charles Taylor, vice president, who presided in the absence of Dean Wilhelm, president. Guests included Adolf Brandt Jr., project engineer of the East End firm and Frank M. Dougherty of the Ferro Corp. at Cleveland, parent concern. Other guests were present from Midland and Canada.

Teen-Agers Should Learn To Control Eating

Overweight teen-agers, let's find a plan to help you get up from the dinner table before you've overeaten! If you're a girl with spunk, you can banish the bulges and get down to shapely weight. But first you do have to make up your mind to take yourself in hand. Reducing doesn't start with diet or exercise — it starts with a firm decision to act to make your dream of a rosy future come true.

Ida Jean Kain

Don't waste your time going on a faddy diet, for you'll pile the pounds back on plus a few more in the bargain. It's your everyday food habits that determine whether you will grow up to be a beauty or keep on adding padding.

Today's story about a teen-ager who dieted the wrong way and regained should encourage you to take the right course. She has now decided to give the protective plan a chance and challenges others to join her. It all began at her sister's wedding.

"AFTER SEEING myself in a gown beside the other bridesmaids at my sister's wedding, I determined to lose weight. At that time I weighed 145 bulgy pounds. I'm 16 and 5 feet 4 tall. I did take off 15 pounds, but now I've gained back 7 unwanted pounds!

"Your column has given me confidence to try again, and this time I want to change the way I eat. I want to lose 16 pounds and keep my weight right. Please send me your new diet leaflet, "Teen-Age Slimming Challenge."

All right, teen-agers, all those in favor of getting down to shapely weight by St. Valentine's Day, try the apple plan. Tonight at dinner, put a luncheon size plate at your plate. Take one modest serving of everything your mother has prepared for the meal. . .all except the dessert.

At the finish of the main course, push away from the table. During the evening, treat yourself to a big, juicy apple. The apple will give you something to munch on while you study. Overeating has enlarged your food capacity and your appetite, but the practice of getting up from the table short of that full feeling will shrink your appetite down to size. And the practice is slimming!

By cutting down on those dinner calories, you'll be hungry for breakfast. A good breakfast — an egg, a glass of skim milk, a slice of toast and fruit — can set the pattern for the day.

HAVE AN ADEQUATE lunch, but skip the rich dessert. Then, after school, have a big apple or some other pick-up not to exceed 100 calories. In a short two weeks, you'll begin to get that voracious appetite under control. . .and glory be, you'll be slimming down beautifully. It's a promise!

Shape-ups will do wonders for your figure, so in tomorrow's column, we'll whip into streamliners.

Send a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope for leaflet entitled "Teen-Age Slimming Challenge." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Indiana Public Gets Chance To Oppose Train Cut

MUNCIE, Ind. (AP)—The Indiana public will get its first chance today to protest against the Nickel Plate Railroad's plan to drop its only two remaining passenger trains running between St. Louis and Cleveland.

The state Public Service Commission had scheduled a public hearing in the city council chambers, so that citizens could testify about a proposal to stop running trains 9 and 10 across Indiana.

Railroad officials contend they lost almost $175,000 in Indiana alone on the two trains last year. A group of railroad employe unions already are fighting the stoppage idea.

Muncie is one of two Hoosier cities that qualify as main stops for the two trains, which pass through Indiana at night. The other city, Frankfort, will have a public hearing Thursday.

Served Nearly 40 Years

Matthew Clark, Veteran Power Employe, Retires

Matthew Clark, a veteran of nearly 40 years service in the electric utility industry, has retired from his job of operator-caretaker for the Ohio Power Co. here.

He served in that capacity the past 3 years and for 35 years previously he was an operator at the Wellsville Sub-station.

Working with the Salvation Army has been one of his chief spare - time interests since 1933 and he plans to devote even more time to this now that he has retired.

Serving as both beginners' instructor and band master of the Salvation Army senior band, Clark said he enjoys the job because of his fondness for both music and open air and religious work. He also serves as principal speaker at Salvation Army activities.

Other retirement plans include building a small home southwest of West Point, raising a few chickens and pigs and doing some truck patch gardening.

He is a member of the Eastern Division Chapter of the Ohio Power Veterans Employes' Association.

Born Dec. 15, 1893, at Bergholz, he worked from 1910 to 1912 as a miner for the J. L. Francy Coal Co. at West Point. During the next three years he was employed by the Indian Hill Coal Co. at Uhrichsville and later had a job with the former McLain Firebrick Co. at Wellsville.

Clark was employed by Ohio Power in May 1918 and worked at both Steubenville and Wellsville before his service was interrupted in 1920. He rejoined the company seven months later at the Wellsville Sub-station.

MATTHEW CLARK
Was Operator-Caretaker.

In all his years of service, Clark never suffered a disabling injury, although working in sub-stations was a hazardous occupation many years ago. In more recent years, many safety devices and Ohio Power's safety education programs have helped reduce the number of accidents, not only in substations but throughout the company.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark, who reside at 454 1st Ave., have two sons Lester and Bernard Clark of Midland, and three daughters, Mrs. Robert Mays and Mrs. William Thornhill, both of East Liverpool, and Gloria Clark at home. Another son, Leonard, died while serving in the Marines in January 1944. There are six grandchildren.

Council Asks Water Survey

New Cumberland To Set Sewage Rates

NEW CUMBERLAND — Council Tuesday night ordered a water survey of the village to determine rates to finance construction of a sewage disposal plant.

Mrs. Mary Lou Wagner, village clerk, will be in charge. The figures will be used to determine whether to charge a percentage of the water used or a flat fee.

The councilmen said they feel a flat fee will be more feasible. The survey will be based on the bills and water consumption during the present quarter, which ends Dec. 31.

It will show the average consumption, how many gallons of water are pumped in a given period and how many consumers are paying the minimum.

The figures will be compared with those presented by A. R. Todd of Wheeling, consulting engineer. Council will review the figures in January.

Mayor Albert Fuccy said complaints of vandalism have been received and he warned parents will be held responsible should their children be caught damaging property. A photoelectric cell was stolen from the football stadium and glass blocks have been broken at the Community House. Complaints also have been received on phones being used in pranks.

Fuccy said property owners are responsible for cleaning the sidewalks of snow. The village will not be responsible for any damages should someone be hurt in a fall.

Two Experts Analyze Teaching Of Reading

A few years ago, a man by the name of Flesch wrote a book, "Why Johnny Can't Read," which stirred wide controversy. He maintained that we should return to the method of using the alphabet and phonics in teaching reading. He also made a good many general statements which the rank and file of reading experts jumped on as unsupportable by known facts.

By Garry Meyers

THEIR USUAL reply was that phonics are being taught, that public researches prove that learning to read by the look-and-say method is sound and that children are not ready for phonics before the second or third grade.

Now there's another book, written by two reading experts who, for years, have been teaching beginning readers and helping the poor reader by systematic emphasis on phonics.

The book is "Reading Chaos And Cure" by Sibyl Terman and Charles Walcutt.

Summarizing the works of such leading reading experts as Gray, Gates, Witty, Betts, who have been the vigorous critics of Flesch, and quoting from them, Terman and Walcutt first show how serious the reading problem is—a sorry picture.

—:—

THEY challenge the scientific rigor of the researches on which are based the conclusions of most investigators who approve of the look-and-say method. They also challenge the very psychology at the heart of the word-method of learning to read.

Furthermore, the authors maintain that there is generally very little systematic teaching of phonics today, in spite of the assertions of the defenders of the look-and-say method.

As you know, the modern primary school today urges parents not to teach the children to recognize the letters of the alphabet before entering school, even during most of their first grade year.

—:—

"OFFICIAL universal theory and practice," say Terman and Walcutt, "still ignore the alphabet and advise parents not to teach it to their preschool child." The authors deplore this and so do I.

"A careful research of the literature has failed to discover a single piece of research which proves or even indicates, that learning the letters before reading is a handicap," they point out.

"Reading Chaos And Cure" names numerous small school systems where children begin reading through systematic phonic teaching, with remarkable reading achievement as measured by objective tests. The book ends with a simple way of teaching phonics.

My bulletins, "Home Fun With Phonics" and "Early Steps In Reading," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Police Hunt Boy Friend In Death Of Blonde Model

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police are looking for the boy friend of a blonde, 19-year-old model whose body was apparently thrown off a steep mountain road.

The girl, Charlotte Trosper, was apparently stabbed before she was pushed off a precipice in the San Gabriel Mountains north of Los Angeles.

Her body was found Tuesday by a motorist on a ledge below a scenic parking area along the mountain highway.

She had been reported missing when she failed to show up at her modeling job at a photo studio Tuesday morning. Her employer Emmett Hubbarth went to her apartment and notified police when he found she wasn't there.

Hubbarth told the officers Miss Trosper had been having "difficulties" with a boy friend. Investigators learned that the boy friend had been at the apartment Monday night.

Post Office Already Having Its Troubles

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With the Christmas mailing rush only just begun the post office department already has troubles. They misplaced a bag containing almost $3,000,000 in checks.

The checks represented federal subsidies for aid to blind or disabled persons and dependent children and were being distributed to county welfare departments by the Ohio State Welfare Department.

A Welfare Department aide left the letters containing the checks at the Spring Street postal substation last Friday afternoon.

Today county welfare agents began complaining of not receiving their federal funds. A check showed the missing bag had somehow been routed into the parcel post section of the main Columbus Post Office.

The checks were rushed out — a few days late but then this is the Christmas season you know.

State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel's successful bid for a fifth term cost a total of $712, according to two sworn statements of Nov. 4 campaign expenses filed with the County Election Board.

The Clarence L. Wetzel for Representative Committee spent $662, according to a statement filed by Atty. Howard M. Cole of Lisbon, chairman. Wetzel filed a personal report showing expenditures of $712, of which $662 was contributed to the committee that supported him. He also gave $50 to the county Republican campaign, the report said.

Pittsburgh Ceramic Section To Announce Award Winner

The name of the winner of the 1959 Albert Victor Bleininger Memorial Award for "distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics" will be announced at "split" sessions of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society Friday night, Dec. 12, in East Liverpool and Pittsburgh.

The Whitewares Division of the section will meet at the Country Club and the Glass Division will convene at Mellon Institute following dinner at the Royal York Hotel in Pittsburgh. Both meetings will begin at 6:30.

The Pittsburgh section has made the award annually since 1948 in memory of the late Dr. Bleininger, who was research director of the Homer Laughlin China Co. The gold medal and scroll symbolizing the award will be presented at a dinner meeting in March, probably in Pittsburgh.

The 1958 award went to Dr. Alexander Silverman, professor emeritus of chemistry at the University of Pittsburgh.

The award committee is headed by John J. Duke of Saxonburg, Pa. Nominations for the award, which closed Nov. 15, could be made by any member of the American Ceramic Society.

At the East Liverpool meeting, the Whitewares Division will hear a talk by Arthur A. Wells of Homer Laughlin on his experiences on a recent trip to Venezuela. He also will screen films of the trip. A buffet dinner will precede his talk.

At Pittsburgh, Neill Brandt of Mellon Institute will discuss "Some Theoretical Aspects of the Strength of Glass." His talk will be based on his own research at the institute.

Frank H. McRitchie of Pittsburgh, secretary, said last-minute reservations for the East Liverpool meeting should be phoned to John McLaren of Bell Research Laboratories here. Tyler Pett of the Kopp Glass Co. at Pittsburgh is in charge of reservations for the Pittsburgh meeting.

Pittsburgh Ceramic Section To Announce Award Winner

The name of the winner of the 1959 Albert Victor Bleininger Memorial Award for "distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics" will be announced at "split" sessions of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society Friday night, Dec. 12, in East Liverpool and Pittsburgh.

The Whitewares Division of the section will meet at the Country Club and the Glass Division will convene at Mellon Institute following dinner at the Royal York Hotel in Pittsburgh. Both meetings will begin at 6:30.

The Pittsburgh section has made the award annually since 1948 in memory of the late Dr. Bleininger, who was research director of the Homer Laughlin China Co. The gold medal and scroll symbolizing the award will be presented at a dinner meeting in March, probably in Pittsburgh.

The 1958 award went to Dr. Alexander Silverman, professor emeritus of chemistry at the University of Pittsburgh.

The award committee is headed by John J. Duke of Saxonburg, Pa. Nominations for the award, which closed Nov. 15, could be made by any member of the American Ceramic Society.

At the East Liverpool meeting, the Whitewares Division will hear a talk by Arthur A. Wells of Homer Laughlin on his experiences on a recent trip to Venezuela. He also will screen films of the trip. A buffet dinner will precede his talk.

At Pittsburgh, Neill Brandt of Mellon Institute will discuss "Some Theoretical Aspects of the Strength of Glass." His talk will be based on his own research at the institute.

Frank H. McRitchie of Pittsburgh, secretary, said last-minute reservations for the East Liverpool meeting should be phoned to John McLaren of Bell Research Laboratories here. Tyler Pett of the Kopp Glass Co. at Pittsburgh is in charge of reservations for the Pittsburgh meeting.

Lions To Hold Family Dinner

Newell Group Also Starts Candy Sale

Two Christmas season events were discussed at the meeting of the Newell Lions Club Monday night in the Shamrock Restaurant with Richard Brenneman, president, presiding.

Tommy Chilton, chairman, reported the annual family Christmas dinner will be held at the Pughtown Grange Hall Dec. 13 at 6:30 p. m. and Albert Logston, chairman, said the club's annual sale of Christmas candy was to start today.

Joe Jester was appointed to assist the Rev. Ray Brugler, chairman, for the annual March of Dimes drive beginning in January.

Harry Messenheimer was appointed to the Christmas basket project, in co-operation with the American Legion Post, to provide Yule foods for the needy of the community.

Speaker was Walter Jordan of Chester, district manager of the Monongahela Power Co., who showed a film on house power. Former district governor in a downstate community, he also spoke on Lionism.

Except for the Yule dinner, there will be no further meetings of the club until January.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I decorate a plain flower pot to make it more attractive?

A. Wrap the pot with crepe paper, but before doing this, cover the pot with about two thicknesses of oiled paper; this will prevent discolored marks from water that may overflow.

Q. How can I make good sauces?

A. When sauces are thickened with cornstarch let them cook for at least 15 minutes. They will be improved if stood over hot water in a double boiler for about an hour. Sauces that are thickened with flour need about five minutes cooking.

Q. How can I relieve tired, aching, or burning feet?

A. Try placing boracic acid in the stockings. This also acts as a deodorant.

30% Increase Proposed

Decision Due In 2 Weeks On Blue Cross Rate Hike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Arthur I. Vorys, state superintendent of insurance, says there will be a decision probably within two weeks on rate increases asked by the Blue Cross of northeast Ohio.

Only one person at Tuesday's hearing protested the proposed increases of about 30 per cent in Blue Cross rates.

That was Albert Berry of the Men's Professional Teachers Assn. of Lorain.

Berry did not challenge the authenticity of statistics presented by John R. Mannix, executive vice president of the Blue Cross of northeast Ohio, in support of the proposed increases.

The Lorain man told Vorys, who conducted the hearing, that although the average monthly earnings of Blue Cross families in Cleveland may have increased more than 300 per cent in the last 20 years, Lorain schoolteachers had had no such increase.

Berry also brought up the problems of teachers who must choose between a deductible and a non-deductible contract with Blue Cross. Because of the limited choice, he said, all individual needs of the teachers are not met.

The only other objections to the Blue Cross proposals had nothing to do with rates. Representatives of pharmaceutical groups spoke in opposition to an item in a proposed 730-day extended benefit contract. This item provides that Blue Cross shall pay for drugs prescribed by the doctor at the time of the patient's discharge for not more than two weeks and that the hospital shall furnish such drugs.

James D. Cope of Columbus, of the Ohio State Pharmaceutical Assn., was among those voicing objections.

Miss Frieda Escavage, president of the Cleveland Society of Hospital Pharmacists, said there are not enough hospital pharmacists now and that this item would mean more work for these pharmacists.

Statistics presented by Mannix indicated that the reserve of the Blue Cross of northeast Ohio will be wiped out by July 1, 1959, if the proposed increases are not granted.

He predicted the organization will lose $4,800,000 this year under the present rates. He blamed the situation on a rise of 3 per cent in use of hospitals and an increase of 8 per cent in costs.

UMW Local Reports On 'Right-Work' Drive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A report submitted by the United Mine Workers, District 6, to the Secretary of State Tuesday shows the union spent $6,135 in the campaign against the right-to-work proposal.

The union reported no contributions. Another union, Painesville Local 482 of the United Textile Workers of America, reported spending $1,348 against the right-to-work campaign. Contributions amounted to $1,351. The union said the balance will be used for future political and civic education and training.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Playhouse 90 Marks An Anniversary

With "Return of Ansell Gibbs" the other night, "Playhouse 90" reached its 90th first night, an anniversary of some importance in this difficult industry. Saluting it, Rod Serling writes:

John Crosby

"It's sort of like saying happy birthday to a bucket of steam. The subject has a name but no face or family. But I've got a feeling for 'Playhouse 90' generally reserved for old Army buddies and photo albums from boyhood."

And well he might, because Serling wrote "Requiem for a Heavyweight" which was the first "Playhouse 90" play, an original that won a hatful of awards.

Today, two and a bit years old, "Playhouse 90" is the most distinguished, the most consistent, the most ambitious show on television, virtually the only live dramatic show and — many folks say — almost the only thing worth looking forward to.

(By that I mean sharply to differentiate it from most other television which people watch for lack of anything else to do. "Playhouse 90" is watched as a conscious and positive act, not an absence of alternatives.)

-:-

IT'S RATHER a shame that "Playhouse 90's" 90th should have been "Return of Ansell Gibbs"—representing a sharp dip in quality from the level the series has been hitting all year.

This was a windy and murky exploration of personalities and philosophies in the upper echelon of politics. Its big scene pitted a windbag, flag-waving senator against an icy intellectual (Melvyn Douglas) on a sort of Mike Wallace television interview show.

Theoretically, Mr. Douglas "destroyed" himself politically on that show, though it didn't strike me that way at all. Both dramatically and philosophically, I found this wooden and unconvincing, though there were some fine performances by Melvyn Douglas and Diana Lynn.

If we're throwing our hats in the air for "Playhouse 90," a more suitable object would be the production a week earlier of a dramatication of William Faulkner's "Old Man," a tremendous achievement for live television.

If anyone were to ask me who was the greatest TV dramatist, I'm afraid I'd say Faulker, whose stories and novellas (which this was) lend themselves to television with shattering force.

-:-

"OLD MAN," dramatized by Horton Foote, is the story of a Mississippi River flood in which a convict rescues a pregnant woman from a tree and fights his way back to captivity, only to be socked with an extra 10 years' servitude, an almost unbearable bit of Faulknerian irony.

There was a stunning performance by Sterling Hayden, who is almost as big a surprise as Piper Laurie was a year or so ago, and Geraldine Page.

But the real hero was director John Frankenheimer, who did astounding things with his cameras with the swirling waters of the flood, crowd scenes on a levee, bunkhouse scenes and — probably most difficult of all — dramatic duologues between Miss Page and Mr. Hayden in a tiny rowboat.

At the very beginning I had great trouble understanding the talk, partly because that Deep South accent throws me, partly because there was too much noise. But when that cleared up I was held transfixed by the sure-footed characterization and humanity and sheer imaginative scope of the tale.

IT'S A GREAT adventure story, and the last thing in the world I'd imagine a producer would attempt on live television. But then that's why "Playhouse 90" is such a distinguished series and why Fred Coe is so eminent a producer. If "Playhouse 90" ever loses its venturesome nature, all television will be the worse.

As Mr. Steriing says:

"The baby is still growing. This big creature with no real personal attributes that I happen to have great fondness for, still matures and gropes and pushes its way up and forward, and shifts around and searches and experiments and sometimes proves something with a ringing clarity and sometimes falls on its pratt in the middle of an unknown.

"And for all these reasons it has a vitality like the opening night of a Broadway show. It has the excitement of a world premiere of a movie. It has that indefinable quality that comes with theater and that can build a tradition overnight by turning a play or a performance or even a moment into a monument."

Family Robbed, Tied With 'Dragnet' On TV

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — David Gottlieb and his family were robbed of $9,110 in jewelry, furs and cash Tuesday night by two bandits who left them bound on the living room floor.

The Gottliebs freed themselves.

Gottlieb said that while the men were tying him up, the television set remained on.

"And what should come on," he said, "but that Dragnet song. You know, dum de dumm dum."

To Head Wholesalers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Harold W. Squire, president of the Tiffin Art Metal Co., will become president of the National Heating and Air Conditioning Wholesalers Assn. next year. He was named president-elect Tuesday at the group's 12th annual convention. He will take office as president at the 1959 convention. Other Ohioans elected were John Burnside of Niles, trustee, and John Robertson of Alliance, outgoing president named trustee.

Pike Will Use Radar Control

Some Form Planned Soon, Official Says

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike Patrol will be using "some form of radar control" soon, a State Highway Patrol officer told the Ohio Turnpike Commission Tuesday.

Maj. S. B. Radcliffe, deputy commander of the patrol, at first opposed use of radar on the toll road but after a lengthy debate on the issue he told the commission the patrol will use radar in some form.

He said the patrol did not want to "jump into something that would be a waste of money."

Turnpike Chairman James W. Shocknessy three months ago began pressing for radar to control excessive speed on the turnpike.

He asked Radcliffe to bring another report on radar to the next commission meeting.

Another highway patrol officer, Capt. David W. Unkle, said the posting of radar signs would tend to deter speedsters but questioned whether use of radar would bring additional arrests.

He said the commission could put up such signs even if there were no radar enforcement.

Shocknessy demurred saying the commission would not be deceitful enough to put up signs if there were no intention of using radar.

C. W. Hartford, turnpike executive director, said that to lessen the danger of out-of-control vehicles crossing the median strip in the turnpike he favored mass plantings of multiflora rose hedge at 547 locations.

Each planting would be 300 feet long and would cost about $1,000. He urged that 50 such plantings be made next spring.

He said excavating to deepen 84 miles of shallow median still would not end the problem and would cost $700,000.

New Type Portable A-Reactor Dedicated

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—A new type portable atomic reactor was dedicated at the National Reactor Testing Station Tuesday. Officials promptly put it to practical use, substituting atomic power for the commercial electricity that had lighted the building housing the new reactor.

Known as the Argonne Low Power Reactor, the new atomic plant is the first working model of a prototype designed for easy shipment by air to remote areas. Its dedication marked the 16th anniversary of the world's first controlled nuclear chain reaction, which occurred Dec. 2, 1942, at the University of Chicago Stadium.

Yule Songs Given For PTA Meeting

Christmas songs were presented by pupils from the second through sixth grades at the meeting of the MacDonald Parent-Teacher Association Monday night in the all-purpose room of the Wellsville school.

The Tenettes, a group of 10 girls from the senior Glee Club of the high school, sang Christmas carols. Mrs. Louise Lawton, music supervisor, directed the program.

The Rev. William A. Hewitt of the Central Methodist Church conducted devotions and Mrs. Mary Clark, president, presided for business. Mrs. Ethel Clark reported $102 proceeds for the remainder of the candy sale and the group voted to pay $160 toward the new stage curtains used for the first time Monday night.

Mrs. Christine Wilson, Mrs. Naomi Palmer, Mrs. Dorothy McClelland, Mrs. Donna McVay and Mrs. Helen McClain comprised the committee in charge of the candy treat for the children.

No meeting will be held in January due to the school vacation but an Executive Board meeting will be held during the month. Plans are being made for a public card party in February.

Playhouse 90 Marks An Anniversary

With "Return of Ansell Gibbs" the other night, "Playhouse 90" reached its 90th first night, an anniversary of some importance in this difficult industry. Saluting it, Rod Serling writes:

John Crosby

"It's sort of like saying happy birthday to a bucket of steam. The subject has a name but no face or family. But I've got a feeling for 'Playhouse 90' generally reserved for old Army buddies and photo albums from boyhood."

And well he might, because Serling wrote "Requiem for a Heavyweight" which was the first "Playhouse 90" play, an original that won a hatful of awards.

Today, two and a bit years old, "Playhouse 90" is the most distinguished, the most consistent, the most ambitious show on television, virtually the only live dramatic show and — many folks say — almost the only thing worth looking forward to.

(By that I mean sharply to differentiate it from most other television which people watch for lack of anything else to do. "Playhouse 90" is watched as a conscious and positive act, not an absence of alternatives.)

-:-

IT'S RATHER a shame that "Playhouse 90's" 90th should have been "Return of Ansell Gibbs"—representing a sharp dip in quality from the level the series has been hitting all year.

This was a windy and murky exploration of personalities and philosophies in the upper echelon of politics. Its big scene pitted a windbag, flag-waving senator against an icy intellectual (Melvyn Douglas) on a sort of Mike Wallace television interview show.

Theoretically, Mr. Douglas "destroyed" himself politically on that show, though it didn't strike me that way at all. Both dramatically and philosophically, I found this wooden and unconvincing, though there were some fine performances by Melvyn Douglas and Diana Lynn.

If we're throwing our hats in the air for "Playhouse 90," a more suitable object would be the production a week earlier of a dramatication of William Faulkner's "Old Man," a tremendous achievement for live television.

If anyone were to ask me who was the greatest TV dramatist, I'm afraid I'd say Faulker, whose stories and novellas (which this was) lend themselves to television with shattering force.

-:-

"OLD MAN," dramatized by Horton Foote, is the story of a Mississippi River flood in which a convict rescues a pregnant woman from a tree and fights his way back to captivity, only to be socked with an extra 10 years' servitude, an almost unbearable bit of Faulknerian irony.

There was a stunning performance by Sterling Hayden, who is almost as big a surprise as Piper Laurie was a year or so ago, and Geraldine Page.

But the real hero was director John Frankenheimer, who did astounding things with his cameras with the swirling waters of the flood, crowd scenes on a levee, bunkhouse scenes and — probably most difficult of all — dramatic duologues between Miss Page and Mr. Hayden in a tiny rowboat.

At the very beginning I had great trouble understanding the talk, partly because that Deep South accent throws me, partly because there was too much noise. But when that cleared up I was held transfixed by the sure-footed characterization and humanity and sheer imaginative scope of the tale.

IT'S A GREAT adventure story, and the last thing in the world I'd imagine a producer would attempt on live television. But then that's why "Playhouse 90" is such a distinguished series and why Fred Coe is so eminent a producer. If "Playhouse 90" ever loses its venturesome nature, all television will be the worse.

As Mr. Sterling says:

"The baby is still growing. This big creature with no real personal attributes that I happen to have great fondness for, still matures and gropes and pushes its way up and forward, and shifts around and searches and experiments and sometimes proves something with a ringing clarity and sometimes falls on its pratt in the middle of an unknown.

"And for all these reasons it has a vitality like the opening night of a Broadway show. It has the excitement of a world premiere of a movie. It has that indefinable quality that comes with theater and that can build a tradition overnight by turning a play or a performance or even a moment into a monument."

Family Robbed, Tied With 'Dragnet' On TV

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — David Gottlieb and his family were robbed of $9,110 in jewelry, furs and cash Tuesday night by two bandits who left them bound on the living room floor.

The Gottliebs freed themselves.

Gottlieb said that while the men were tying him up, the television set remained on.

"And what should come on," he said, "but that Dragnet song. You know, dum de dumm dum."

To Head Wholesalers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Harold W. Squire, president of the Tiffin Art Metal Co., will become president of the National Heating and Air Conditioning Wholesalers Assn. next year. He was named president-elect Tuesday at the group's 12th annual convention. He will take office as president at the 1959 convention. Other Ohioans elected were John Burnside of Niles, trustee, and John Robertson of Alliance, outgoing president named trustee.

Pike Will Use Radar Control

Some Form Planned Soon, Official Says

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike Patrol will be using "some form of radar control" soon, a State Highway Patrol officer told the Ohio Turnpike Commission Tuesday.

Maj. S. B. Radcliffe, deputy commander of the patrol, at first opposed use of radar on the toll road but after a lengthy debate on the issue he told the commission the patrol will use radar in some form.

He said the patrol did not want to "jump into something that would be a waste of money."

Turnpike Chairman James W. Shocknessy three months ago began pressing for radar to control excessive speed on the turnpike.

He asked Radcliffe to bring another report on radar to the next commission meeting.

Another highway patrol officer, Capt. David W. Unkle, said the posting of radar signs would tend to deter speedsters but questioned whether use of radar would bring additional arrests.

He said the commission could put up such signs even if there were no radar enforcement.

Shocknessy demurred saying the commission would not be deceitful enough to put up signs if there were no intention of using radar.

C. W. Hartford, turnpike executive director, said that to lessen the danger of out-of-control vehicles crossing the median strip in the turnpike he favored mass plantings of multiflora rose hedge at 547 locations.

Each planting would be 300 feet long and would cost about $1,000. He urged that 50 such plantings be made next spring.

He said excavating to deepen 84 miles of shallow median still would not end the problem and would cost $700,000.

New Type Portable A-Reactor Dedicated

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—A new type portable atomic reactor was dedicated at the National Reactor Testing Station Tuesday. Officials promptly put it to practical use, substituting atomic power for the commercial electricity that had lighted the building housing the new reactor.

Known as the Argonne Low Power Reactor, the new atomic plant is the first working model of a prototype designed for easy shipment by air to remote areas. Its dedication marked the 16th anniversary of the world's first controlled nuclear chain reaction, which occurred Dec. 2, 1942, at the University of Chicago Stadium.

Yule Songs Given For PTA Meeting

Christmas songs were presented by pupils from the second through sixth grades at the meeting of the MacDonald Parent-Teacher Association Monday night in the all-purpose room of the Wellsville school.

The Tenettes, a group of 10 girls from the senior Glee Club of the high school, sang Christmas carols. Mrs. Louise Lawton, music supervisor, directed the program.

The Rev. William A. Hewitt of the Central Methodist Church conducted devotions and Mrs. Mary Clark, president, presided for business. Mrs. Ethel Clark reported $102 proceeds for the remainder of the candy sale and the group voted to pay $160 toward the new stage curtains used for the first time Monday night.

Mrs. Christine Wilson, Mrs. Naomi Palmer, Mrs. Dorothy McClelland, Mrs. Donna McVay and Mrs. Helen McClain comprised the committee in charge of the candy treat for the children.

No meeting will be held in January due to the school vacation but an Executive Board meeting will be held during the month. Plans are being made for a public card party in February.

Nontaxpaying Pastor Follows Ghandi-Style Fasting In Jail

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mohatma Ghandi, a holy man to millions of Indians, fasted to help gain his political and moral aims, and a stubborn minister here is following the example—in a more private way.

The Rev. Maurice F. McCrackin started refusing food when he entered county jail last Nov. 24 on a federal court contempt citation. He drinks only water.

But Ghandi—whom the pastor admires—was a political-religious leader of great ingenuity with a horde of followers who sought with him—among other things — self-government for India.

The Rev. Mr. McCrackin's aim is simpler: He's opposed to paying income taxes because they help pay for weapons of war which he says is evil.

But he follows the assassinated Indian leader's ideas of passive resistance. That's why the minister is in jail.

When the minister was indicted on a charge of failing to heed a summons to discuss his taxes, he refused to come to U.S. District Court for arraignment.

And when Judge John H. Druffel sent court aides to get him, he offered no resistance, but no cooperation, either. And once in court, he took no part in the session, refused to enter a plea, answer questions or heed his court-appointed attorneys. The contempt citation followed. His attorneys were unsuccessful in a bid Monday to dismiss the citation. The judge set a trial date for Dec. 12.

The bachelor minister, 53 last Monday, said his fast "is accompanied by prayer and meditation and seeking God's guidance."

Nontaxpaying Pastor Follows Ghandi-Style Fasting In Jail

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mohatma Ghandi, a holy man to millions of Indians, fasted to help gain his political and moral aims, and a stubborn minister here is following the example—in a more private way.

The Rev. Maurice F. McCrackin started refusing food when he entered county jail last Nov. 24 on a federal court contempt citation. He drinks only water.

But Ghandi—whom the pastor admires—was a political-religious leader of great ingenuity with a horde of followers who sought with him—among other things — self-government for India.

The Rev. Mr. McCrackin's aim is simpler: He's opposed to paying income taxes because they help pay for weapons of war which he says is evil.

But he follows the assassinated Indian leader's ideas of passive resistance. That's why the minister is in jail.

When the minister was indicted on a charge of failing to heed a summons to discuss his taxes, he refused to come to U.S. District Court for arraignment.

And when Judge John H. Druffel sent court aides to get him, he offered no resistance, but no cooperation, either. And once in court, he took no part in the session, refused to enter a plea, answer questions or heed his court-appointed attorneys. The contempt citation followed. His attorneys were unsuccessful in a bid Monday to dismiss the citation. The judge set a trial date for Dec. 12.

The bachelor minister, 53 last Monday, said his fast "is accompanied by prayer and meditation and seeking God's guidance."

Coal Miners Get $2 Boost

Separate Pacts Due With Captive Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new soft coal industry labor contract will give 180,000 miners a two-stage $2 per day pay boost next year.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, reached agreement on the pact Tuesday with the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn., the industry's largest labor bargaining group. It may be signed formally today.

Details were withheld pending the signing but it was learned the agreement provides for a $1.20 per day boost for miners Jan. 1 and another 80-cent increase next April 1. The miners' basic wage has been $22.25 daily. A boost from $180 to $200 in annual vacation pay was also provided.

The big news of the industry agreement was that separate pacts will be signed by owners of commercial mines and captive mines. The captives are mines operated for fuel for steel mills and utility plants.

The agreements are to be identical except that the commercial pact will include a new union-wanted proviso that the commercial mines will refuse to buy or handle coal produced by nonunion mines. The captives flatly refused to accept this, fearing possible antitrust law violation.

The new agreement runs for at least a year, and thereafter until either side terminates it on 60-day notice.

City's Officers Seek Missing Store Checks

Two checks that had been cashed for customers at the A. J. Olsen Co. store on W. 5th St. disappeared mysteriously sometime after 3:30 p. m. Tuesday and they may have been wrapped in a shopper's parcel by mistake, police reported today.

They were a check for $25, cashed for a Cleveland man, and a check for approximately $47 that probably was cashed for a woman pottery - worker, possibly drawn on the Homer Laughlin China Co., police said.

As the identification of the Cleveland man was known, the firm already has stopped payment on the $25 check, police said. If the woman potter who cashed a check in the store yesterday afternoon will report her name, payment on that check also can be stopped, police said.

The investigation disclosed that the checks, lying on the counter, might have been wrapped by mistake in a parcel for a customer, Lt. Clyde W. Boso of the Special Service Bureau said.

Woman Bound Over

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Freda Cooper, 40, was bound over to the Montgomery County Grand Jury Tuesday on a charge of first degree murder in the death of Phoebe Forcht, her 14 - year - old daughter by a former marriage. Police said Mrs. Cooper had left notes in her apartment at the time of the shooting, one expressing fear that the daughter would have to be placed in an orphanage.

Noted Attorney Dies

CLEVELAND (AP)—Joseph C. Hostetler, 73, noted Cleveland attorney, died Tuesday after a long illness. He was past president of the Cleveland Bar Assn., a director of many industrial firms and senior member of the law firm of Baker, Hostetler and Patterson.

Chester Prisoner Released Briefly For Check On Job

A Chester man serving a one-year sentence in Hancock County Jail at New Cumberland for felonious assault may still be able to hold on to his job at a Pennsylvania steel mill through "sympathetic courtesy" of county authorities.

Arthur Irwin, 32, sentenced for exchanging shots with Hancock County deputies in July when being served a warrant, was granted a four-hour freedom trip to Aliquippa Monday to consult with the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

Irwin was escorted to the Pennsylvania State line by Sheriff Clayton H. Hobbs then allowed to go on to Aliquippa without police escort.

Sheriff Hobbs explained that Irwin must check in at the mill once a month or his nine - year employment there will be terminated. The trip by Irwin was sanctioned by Judge J. H. Brennan, and other county officials, it was reported.

Judge Brennan was quoted as saying the trip "was not a normal procedure" but that it was granted because "it did not seem right to ruin a man because he had been sent to jail."

Irwin was wounded in the shooting spree with Hancock deputies July 4 in a gun battle near his home and spent about a month in a Pittsburgh hospital. He was originally indicted on five counts of attempted murder but the charge was changed to felonious assault.

Irwin's future contacts with the steel firm probably will be completed by mail through signed statements by county authorities that he is confined in jail.

The Northern Hancock County Council for Retarded Children realized a total of $243.64 from a recent fund drive to obtain money to employ a special teacher, it was reported at Tuesday night's meeting in the Chester American Legion home.

Skid, Brake Failure Blamed In 2 Mishaps

A skid on icy pavement and brake failure were blamed for two of the three traffic mishaps recorded by East Liverpool police Tuesday afternoon and night.

A west - bound 1954 sedan driven by Otto M. Chandler, 66, of 318 Blakeley St. skidded across the center line on Pennsylvania Ave. at 5:39 p .m. and collided with an east - bound 1952 sedan operated by Thomas W. Cunningham, 29, of 735 Valley Ave., officers said.

Both drivers estimated their speed at 15 miles an hour, police said. The crash damaged the right front of Chandler's car and the left front of Cunningham's.

Brake failure was blamed for a crash on Dresden Ave. at E. 8th St. at 3:32 p. m. that damaged a 1957 sedan driven by Henry E. Tice, 47, of 1956 Dresden Ave. and a 1949 sedan operated by Clarence A. Boley, 44, of 1049 Peake St. Boley's auto was halted when it was struck from the rear by Tice's, officers said. Tice said his brakes failed.

Coal Miners Get $2 Boost

Separate Pacts Due With Captive Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new soft coal industry labor contract will give 180,000 miners a two-stage $2 per day pay boost next year.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, reached agreement on the pact Tuesday with the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn., the industry's largest labor bargaining group. It may be signed formally today.

Details were withheld pending the signing but it was learned the agreement provides for a $1.20 per day boost for miners Jan. 1 and another 80-cent increase next April 1. The miners' basic wage has been $22.25 daily. A boost from $180 to $200 in annual vacation pay was also provided.

The big news of the industry agreement was that separate pacts will be signed by owners of commercial mines and captive mines. The captives are mines operated for fuel for steel mills and utility plants.

The agreements are to be identical except that the commercial pact will include a new union-wanted proviso that the commercial mines will refuse to buy or handle coal produced by nonunion mines. The captives flatly refused to accept this, fearing possible antitrust law violation.

The new agreement runs for at least a year, and thereafter until either side terminates it on 60-day notice.

City's Officers Seek Missing Store Checks

Two checks that had been cashed for customers at the A. J. Olsen Co. store on W. 5th St. disappeared mysteriously sometime after 3:30 p. m. Tuesday and they may have been wrapped in a shopper's parcel by mistake, police reported today.

They were a check for $25, cashed for a Cleveland man, and a check for approximately $47 that probably was cashed for a woman pottery - worker, possibly drawn on the Homer Laughlin China Co., police said.

As the identification of the Cleveland man was known, the firm already has stopped payment on the $25 check, police said. If the woman potter who cashed a check in the store yesterday afternoon will report her name, payment on that check also can be stopped, police said.

The investigation disclosed that the checks, lying on the counter, might have been wrapped by mistake in a parcel for a customer, Lt. Clyde W. Boso of the Special Service Bureau said.

Woman Bound Over

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Freda Cooper, 40, was bound over to the Montgomery County Grand Jury Tuesday on a charge of first degree murder in the death of Phoebe Forcht, her 14 - year - old daughter by a former marriage. Police said Mrs. Cooper had left notes in her apartment at the time of the shooting, one expressing fear that the daughter would have to be placed in an orphanage.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Joseph C. Hostetler, 73, noted Cleveland attorney, died Tuesday after a long illness. He was past president of the Cleveland Bar Assn., a director of many industrial firms and senior member of the law firm of Baker, Hostetler and Patterson.

Chester Prisoner Released Briefly For Check On Job

A Chester man serving a one-year sentence in Hancock County Jail at New Cumberland for felonious assault may still be able to hold on to his job at a Pennsylvania steel mill through "sympathetic courtesy" of county authorities.

Arthur Irwin, 32, sentenced for exchanging shots with Hancock County deputies in July when being served a warrant, was granted a four-hour freedom trip to Aliquippa Monday to consult with the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

Irwin was escorted to the Pennsylvania State line by Sheriff Clayton H. Hobbs then allowed to go on to Aliquippa without police escort.

Sheriff Hobbs explained that Irwin must check in at the mill once a month or his nine - year employment there will be terminated. The trip by Irwin was sanctioned by Judge J. H. Brennan, and other county officials, it was reported.

Judge Brennan was quoted as saying the trip "was not a normal procedure" but that it was granted because "it did not seem right to ruin a man because he had been sent to jail."

Irwin was wounded in the shooting spree with Hancock deputies July 4 in a gun battle near his home and spent about a month in a Pittsburgh hospital. He was originally indicted on five counts of attempted murder but the charge was changed to felonious assault.

Irwin's future contacts with the steel firm probably will be completed by mail through signed statements by county authorities that he is confined in jail.

Retarded Child Fund Drive Nets $243 In Hancock

The Northern Hancock County Council for Retarded Children realized a total of $243.64 from a recent fund drive to obtain money to employ a special teacher, it was reported at Tuesday night's meeting in the Chester American Legion home.

Firing Due In Week

Army Shows Moon Rocket

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Army unveiled its huge moon rocket — Juno II — Tuesday when the service tower was rolled back as part of the preparations for a launching expected within a week.

The powerful rocket, very similar in appearance to the Jupiter C that fired three Explorer satellites into orbit, will be used for the Army's first attempt to probe far into outer space.

When the tower was rolled away the base of the Army's highly touted Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile was seen. The top of the rocket was covered, however.

For the moon shoot, the Jupiter will be used as a first-stage booster rocket in place of the smaller Redstone missile which gave the big lift to the Jupiter-C satellite vehicle.

The Army moon missile is expected to be a four-stage rocket using clusters of small, solid fuel Sergeant rockets in the upper stages. Its job will be to push a 30-pound satellite payload perhaps farther into space than any previous man-made object.

Its name will be Juno II. The first Juno was a Jupiter test vehicle fired more than a year ago in one of the early nose cone re-entry experiments with the 1,500-mile ballistic missile.

The rocket will be aimed toward the vicinity of the moon, but Dr. Wernher von Braun, Army missile research chief, said recently the chances of hitting the moon or orbiting around it are slim.

Unlike the three Air Force lunar probes, Juno II will not have the necessary guidance in the upper stages to pick out so fine a target.

If all goes well, however, the Army moon rocket might go beyond the moon and far out into space. One of its chief experiments will be to investigate the intense radiation field that rings the earth.

Jet Plane Speeds Serum For Critically Ill Boy, 2

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Serum rushed from New York to Evanston in an Air Force jet plane is considered a last resort remedy today for critically ill 2-year-old Mark Sroge.

Long-distance telephone calls which roused Air Force Secretary James H. Douglas from bed in Washington and spanned the nation in both directions brought the serum to Evanston Hospital.

Mark suffers from influenza meningitis, complicated by excess liquid in his lungs, and shock.

He was reported holding his own after an operation to ease his breathing, and administration of drugs.

The serum, which is no longer manufactured, stayed on a hospital shelf.

The hunt for the serum started when Mark did not respond to the antibiotics which replaced the serum and which are used to treat influenza meningitis.

A call to a Los Angeles laboratory turned up the name of a New Jersey man who might have access to the serum. He is Turk Gerlough of Highland Falls, N.J., employe of the E. R. Squibb & Son laboratory.

Gerlough, also roused from bed, found the serum where it had been in storage for more than a year.

Douglas ordered a jet plane from Mitchel Air Force Base on Long Island, N.Y., to fly the serum to Chicago.

New Jersey and New York state police rushed the serum to the field and it was flown to Chicago. A helicopter then rushed it to Evanston, landing on a golf course near the hospital.

Firing Due In Week

Army Shows Moon Rocket

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Army unveiled its huge moon rocket — Juno II — Tuesday when the service tower was rolled back as part of the preparations for a launching expected within a week.

The powerful rocket, very similar in appearance to the Jupiter C that fired three Explorer satellites into orbit, will be used for the Army's first attempt to probe far into outer space.

When the tower was rolled away the base of the Army's highly touted Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile was seen. The top of the rocket was covered, however.

For the moon shoot, the Jupiter will be used as a first-stage booster rocket in place of the smaller Redstone missile which gave the big lift to the Jupiter-C satellite vehicle.

The Army moon missile is expected to be a four-stage rocket using clusters of small, solid fuel Sergeant rockets in the upper stages. Its job will be to push a 30-pound satellite payload perhaps farther into space than any previous man-made object.

Its name will be Juno II. The first Juno was a Jupiter test vehicle fired more than a year ago in one of the early nose cone re-entry experiments with the 1,500-mile ballistic missile.

The rocket will be aimed toward the vicinity of the moon, but Dr. Wernher von Braun, Army missile research chief, said recently the chances of hitting the moon or orbiting around it are slim.

Unlike the three Air Force lunar probes, Juno II will not have the necessary guidance in the upper stages to pick out so fine a target.

If all goes well, however, the Army moon rocket might go beyond the moon and far out into space. One of its chief experiments will be to investigate the intense radiation field that rings the earth.

Jet Plane Speeds Serum For Critically Ill Boy, 2

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Serum rushed from New York to Evanston in an Air Force jet plane is considered a last resort remedy today for critically ill 2-year-old Mark Sroge.

Long-distance telephone calls which roused Air Force Secretary James H. Douglas from bed in Washington and spanned the nation in both directions brought the serum to Evanston Hospital.

Mark suffers from influenza meningitis, complicated by excess liquid in his lungs, and shock.

He was reported holding his own after an operation to ease his breathing, and administration of drugs.

The serum, which is no longer manufactured, stayed on a hospital shelf.

The hunt for the serum started when Mark did not respond to the antibiotics which replaced the serum and which are used to treat influenza meningitis.

A call to a Los Angeles laboratory turned up the name of a New Jersey man who might have access to the serum. He is Turk Gerlough of Highland Falls, N.J., employe of the E. R. Squibb & Son laboratory.

Gerlough, also roused from bed, found the serum where it had been in storage for more than a year.

Douglas ordered a jet plane from Mitchel Air Force Base on Long Island, N.Y., to fly the serum to Chicago.

New Jersey and New York state police rushed the serum to the field and it was flown to Chicago. A helicopter then rushed it to Evanston, landing on a golf course near the hospital.

State-U.S. Courts Clash Looms

New Obstacles Confront Civil Rights Commission

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — New obstacles foreshadowing a possible clash between state and federal courts stood in the path of the Civil Rights Commission today as it sought access to registration records for next week's hearing on Negro voting.

Subpoenas demanding all available voter registration files dating back to Jan. 1, 1955, have been served on officials in at least three south Alabama counties.

The new federal agency's first public hearing since its creation by Congress more than a year ago opens here Monday.

Resistance in one form or another threatened, meanwhile, to keep the contested voter registration files out of the commission's hands unless it gets a federal court order to produce them.

In two of the three counties, a federal judge, if asked to order local officials to surrender the voting records, would find his authority challenged by that of a state court.

All existing registration files in Barbour and Bullock counties, where Negroes outnumber white residents, have been impounded by Circuit Judge George Wallace, the same jurist who once threatened to jail any federal agent attempting to investigate jury rolls in his court.

Wallace took custody of the records in both counties on almost identical petitions asking for grand jury investigations.

The petitions charged that unqualified voters have been registered in Barbour County by misrepresenting themselves to the Board of Registrars, and that others tried unsuccessfully to register as voters in Bullock County by the use of fraud.

Civil rights agents, since their arrival here last weekend, also subpoenaed the files of the Macon County Board of Registrars, which refused last month to surrender them willingly.

The rift between the Fishers started last Sept. 9 when he returned home after touring New York night spots with Elizabeth Taylor, widow of Mike Todd.

Parry O'Brien has won six straight National AAU indoor shot put titles.

Alcorn And Butler Speak

Businessmen Told Reasons For Sweep By Democrats

NEW YORK (AP)—The chairmen of the Republican and Democratic national committees today gave the nation's business leaders their explanations of the Democratic sweep in the Nov. 4 elections. Needless to say they disagreed.

GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn blamed his party's poor showing on a combination of factors, mainly on the downturn in employment and general business activity. He contended the Republicans still have the "better product to sell," but "we lack the sales force."

His Democratic counterpart, Paul M. Butler, said the Nov. 4 results were a "ringing repudiation of the Eisenhower administration and its failure to provide aggressive, full-time and forward-looking leadership in the areas of economic growth, employment, cost of living, labor legislation, education, defense, human rights and foreign policy."

Alcorn and Butler were invited to give their views before the annual convention of the National Assn. of Manufacturers — the 63rd congress of American industry.

In the elections last month, the Republicans lost 13 Senate seats, a net of 47 House seats, and a net of 5 governorships.

Among the reasons, Alcorn said, were what he called stepped-up contributions from labor to Democratic candidates, a falling off of Republican contributions, branding of the GOP by the Democrats as the right-to-work party, and failure of the Republicans to present to the people the true aims of their party.

Butler said the fact that the Democratic victory was overwhelming and national in scope indicates that national issues were decisive in producing the strong Democratic tide.

He attributed Democratic gains to voter confidence in what he called the responsible record of his party in Congress and in state governments during past years.

Paralyzed Refugee Will Wed Lover Who Waited 3½ Years

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Christa Moore was a young German refugee who liked sports and loved a young man named Burdette Thomson.

On a summer's day in 1955, she and Burdette went on a picnic to Indian Lake north of Dayton.

Christa went swimming. She dove into a shallow part of the lake and struck her head. Rescuers pulled her out and took her to a hospital.

There they told Christa her neck was broken and that she would be paralyzed the rest of her life. Thomson still wanted to marry her but Christa said no, not as long as she was helpless.

Christa remained in the hospital for a year and a half. The girl, who had fled the Russian sector of Berlin in 1950, took the oath of allegiance as an American citizen while still in the hospital.

When she was released there began a long period of convalesence. She learned to feed herself and to write again.

There came a day when she felt she would no longer be completely helpless. She knew she probably would never walk again but she could sit in a wheelchair. It had taken 3½ years but she felt she could face life again. Thomson had waited for her through those 3½ years. Next Saturday Christa and Thomson will be married.

Korean Bonus Claims Lag

Third Of Eligibles In County Still Out

Some Columbiana County Korean veterans will probably be among the estimated 12,000 Ohio Korean conflict veterans who will fail to file their bonus claims before the postmark deadline of midnight Dec. 31.

G. W. Goble, director of the Ohio Korean Conflict Compensation Fund, today said some 236,000 claims have been received since March, while original estimates of the bonus claims set the number of veterans and eligible dependants at 250,000.

A total of 2,075 bonus claims were received from Columbiana County through Oct. 31, Gobel said, while the original estimates of the number of county claims, based on military and draft board records, set the number of claims at 3,291. Total claims paid through Oct. 31 were 1,989.

From throughout the state claims are being received at an average rate of 67 a day. Total checks mailed through Nov. 28 were 225,446, or a total of $57,962,343, Goble said.

An eligible applicant must have been a resident of Ohio on the first day of his active duty within the period June 25, 1950, to July 19, 1953, and for one year prior to the active duty.

Alcorn And Butler Speak

Businessmen Told Reasons For Sweep By Democrats

NEW YORK (AP)—The chairmen of the Republican and Democratic national committees today gave the nation's business leaders their explanations of the Democratic sweep in the Nov. 4 elections. Needless to say they disagreed.

GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn blamed his party's poor showing on a combination of factors, mainly on the downturn in employment and general business activity. He contended the Republicans still have the "better product to sell," but "we lack the sales force."

His Democratic counterpart, Paul M. Butler, said the Nov. 4 results were a "ringing repudiation of the Eisenhower administration and its failure to provide aggressive, full-time and forward-looking leadership in the areas of economic growth, employment, cost of living, labor legislation, education, defense, human rights and foreign policy."

Alcorn and Butler were invited to give their views before the annual convention of the National Assn. of Manufacturers — the 63rd congress of American industry.

In the elections last month, the Republicans lost 13 Senate seats, a net of 47 House seats, and a net of 5 governorships.

Among the reasons, Alcorn said, were what he called stepped-up contributions from labor to Democratic candidates, a falling off of Republican contributions, branding of the GOP by the Democrats as the right-to-work party, and failure of the Republicans to present to the people the true aims of their party.

Butler said the fact that the Democratic victory was overwhelming and national in scope indicates that national issues were decisive in producing the strong Democratic tide.

He attributed Democratic gains to voter confidence in what he called the responsible record of his party in Congress and in state governments during past years.

In Ohio Legislature

Democratic Gains May Top Hopes

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic election gains in the State Legislature may extend farther than first supposed.

The party won control of both houses in the 103rd General Assembly from Republicans for the first time in a decade. They also appear likely to hold Senate control, at least, in the 104th Legislature which convenes in 1961.

The situation resulted from the creation of four-year terms for 16 of the 33 senators elected for the session starting Jan. 5. Democrats won 11 four-year terms and Republicans only five.

The other 17 senators were elected for two-year terms. Democrats won nine of those seats and Republicans eight. That gave the Democrats a 20-13 margin in next year's Senate.

The four - year terms assure Democrats of 11 holdover senators to five Republicans in the 1961 Legislature. The Senate that year will have 38 members.

Of the 22 senators to be elected in 1960, 16 will be elected for four-year terms and six for two-year terms.

At least five of the 22 seats at stake in that election are in nominally Democratic districts. Nine are in districts that usually go Republican. If results in those districts go according to form, the Democrats, with their holdovers, would have a 16-14 advantage.

That would put Democrats in the position of needing to win only half of the other eight seats at stake to keep their Senate majority in the 104th Legislature. Republicans would need to win six of the eight to regain Senate control.

A Democratic sweep in the 1960 election would assure that party of Senate control and possibly continued domination of the House. Politicians expressed doubt that any swing back to the Republicans would be sufficient for the GOP to regain control of the Senate unless it was of landslide proportions.

Democrats will have 78 representatives in the next Ohio House to 61 Republicans. Republicans figure their chances are better in the House for the 1961 session.

In the 1959 Legislature, Republicans outnumbered Democrats 22-12 in the Senate and 97-42 in the House.

Four-year Senate terms resulted from voter approval of a change in the state constitution in the 1956 election. That ended regular two-year terms in the Senate without changing them for representatives.

The amendment provides for election of half the regular state senators to four-year terms every two years to provide for overlapping membership in the upper chamber.

The constitution provides for 33 state senatorial districts but there will be no election in the 30th-33rd district in 1960. That's because the district, which has two senators in the next session, will have only one in the 1961 session. Sen. Harry E. Schwall (R-Fulton) will be a four-year holdover. Sen. Tennyson Guyer (R-Hancock) was elected for only two years.

The population ratio for determining the number of senators in districts provides for 32 regular senators. Others are termed additional senators. The number of additional senators varies in some districts for various legislative sessions.

Additional senators in the 104th Legislature will come from these six districts with the principal county in parenthesis: 10th (Franklin), 11th - 12th (Miami), 17th-18th-19th-28th (Wayne), 20th-22nd (Jefferson), 21st (Stark) and 27th-29th (Lorain).

Democratic Council Plans Policy Statement

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Advisory Council will meet here next Sunday to draw up a policy statement on "The Democratic task in the next two years."

The 24-member group includes former President Harry Truman and Adali Stevenson, among others. An announcement today said most of the members were expected to be on hand for the meeting.

The Council was formed after the 1956 election with the stated mission of developing and pushing party programs between national conventions.

Its meeting Sunday will come just one month before the 86th Congress convenes with greatly increased Democratic control of both House and Senate.

Dairymen's Council Will Convene Monday

LISBON—The Columbiana County Dairymen's Council will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the County Extension Office, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent.

Control of brucellosis and tuberculosis in dairy cattle and other dairy problems will be discussed. Officers for 1959 will be elected.

Donald Rupert of New Waterford is president. The council consists of representatives of the various dairy organizations and groups in the county.

Donald Balsar, president, conducted business when officers were elected. They are Mrs. Archie Judd, president; Richard Doudds, vice president; Mrs. Doudds, secretary, and Mrs. Harry Taylor, treasurer. The next meeting will be Jan. 5 in the social rooms.

Changed Mind Since 1957

Dirksen Will Support Bid To Change Filibuster Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill) announced today he will support efforts to modify the Senate's filibuster rule.

The rule now requires the votes of 64 senators to shut off debate, and the number rises to 66 when Alaska's two senators are seated. Some senators are demanding a rules change to make it easier to end filibusters.

Dirksen, who is in line to become the Senate's new Republican leader, said in an interview that he has changed his mind since he voted in 1957 against opening the Senate's rules to changes.

He now has come to the conclusion, Dirksen said, that Vice President Nixon had "logic on his side" in holding informally then that new rules can be adopted by majority vote at the beginning of each Congress.

His change of position lent added weight to a drive by Senate liberals to alter the filibuster provision.

Three of these, Senators Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill), Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) and Jacob K. Javits (R-NY), told a news conference Tuesday they are not going to make any deals in their fight to curb debate by a majority vote.

They have contended that if the present rule is permitted to stand, it will be impossible to pass additional civil rights legislation.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va) has said that Southern senators would consider a compromise by which two thirds of those voting —instead of the present two thirds of all the senators — could close debate, so long as it was established that the Senate carries over its rules from one Congress to another.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas has proposed such a compromise but Douglas, Case and Javits said it would not be acceptable to them.

On the other side, Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) forecast "a long, strenuous, vigorous and sacrificial fight" against any change in the present rule.

October Traffic Deaths Up From Period In '57

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council reported today traffic deaths in October were 4 per cent higher than in October a year ago — 3,590 against 3,450.

October brought an end to 13 months of uninterrupted traffic improvement. It was the second month of the last 23 to record an increase in highway fatalities over the corresponding month of the preceding year.

Council officials were unable to account for the increase.

A "milk shed" is the farming area from which a city obtains its milk.

School Group Will Participate In Traffic Safety Conference

Six East Liverpool High School students and Austen B. Moore, teacher of driver education, will participate in the North - East Ohio Youth Traffic Safety Conference Saturday at Kent State University.

Attending will be Carl Ludwig, Robert George, Bruce Jones and Joy Sanford, student representatives, and Judy Lowers and Keith Garner together with Moore, who also is president of the Ohio Driver and Safety Education Association.

The conference will be one of 10 held at state universties to receive proposals for traffic safety legislation and suggestions for grass - roots action in the delegates' home schools.

Miss Lowers will lead a discussion topic on the merit point system, covering what the system accomplishes, its advantages and disadvantages and how effective it is.

Each conference will elect delegates to present regional recommendations to a statewide youth assembly Jan. 10 in Columbus. The state assembly will consolidate the recommendations into a combined report of traffic safety ideas of Ohio youth.

The conferences are being sponsored by the Driver and Safety Education Association, Department of Highway Safety and State Department of Education.

Gov. C. William O'Neil has proclaimed the regional meeting period as "Young Adults for Traffic Safety Month."

Rep. Knutson Declares She Isn't Going Home To Husband

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn) says she isn't going home to her husband.

"It has nothing to do with the elections," she told a reporter for the Philadelphia Inquirer Tuesday. "Andy and I are friends but there is no reconciliation."

The congresswoman was the only Democratic candidate not elected in Minnesota Nov. 4. A hitch developed in her re-election campaign when her husband Andy made a public "Come home, Coya" appeal.

He asked her to give up public life and return to their home and hotel business in Oklee, Minn.

After the election, Knutson brought a $200,000 suit against William Kjeldahl, his wife's congressional secretary, charging slander and alienation of affections. The suit was dropped last week.

Mrs. Knutson, narrowly defeated by Republican Odin Langen, has asked for a House investigation of the voting. She complains that her campaign suffered from what she calls false charges made by her husband.

Committee Chairman Clifford Davis (D-Tenn) said that an inquiry will be made.

Langen says he is in no way responsible for the "Come home, Coya" campaign.

New And Continuing Jobless Claims Drop

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fewer new and continuing claims were on file with the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation for the week ended Nov. 29.

The bureau said it received 14,470 new claims in the week compared with 15,192 for the week ended Nov. 22, and had 83,921 continuing claims on file compared to 86,360.

Jap Foreign Minister Snubs Soviet Warnings

TOKYO (AP)—Foreign Minister Aiichiro Fujiyama today dismissed as propaganda Soviet warnings for Japan to break its military assistance treaty with the United States.

Fujiyama said secret negotiations to revise a 1951 defense treaty with Washington would proceed on schedule next week. They have been suspended since Oct.22 because of a Japanses parliamentary dispute primarily concerning domestic matters.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko gave a warning note to Japanese Ambassador Suemitsu Kadowaki in Moscow Tuesday. Broadcast by Moscow radio, it advised Tokyo to break off the talks and send home the American forces stationed here under the treaty.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic election gains in the State Legislature may extend farther than first supposed.

The party won control of both houses in the 103rd General Assembly from Republicans for the first time in a decade. They also appear likely to hold Senate control, at least, in the 104th Legislature which convenes in 1961.

The situation resulted from the creation of four-year terms for 16 of the 33 senators elected for the session starting Jan. 5. Democrats won 11 four-year terms and Republicans only five.

The other 17 senators were elected for two-year terms. Democrats won nine of those seats and Republicans eight. That gave the Democrats a 20-13 margin in next year's Senate.

The four - year terms assure Democrats of 11 holdover senators to five Republicans in the 1961 Legislature. The Senate that year will have 38 members.

Of the 22 senators to be elected in 1960, 16 will be elected for four-year terms and six for two-year terms.

At least five of the 22 seats at stake in that election are in nominally Democratic districts. Nine are in districts that usually go Republican. If results in those districts go according to form, the Democrats, with their holdovers, would have a 16-14 advantage.

That would put Democrats in the position of needing to win only half of the other eight seats at stake to keep their Senate majority in the 104th Legislature. Republicans would need to win six of the eight to regain Senate control.

A Democratic sweep in the 1960 election would assure that party of Senate control and possibly continued domination of the House. Politicians expressed doubt that any swing back to the Republicans would be sufficient for the GOP to regain control of the Senate unless it was of landslide proportions.

Democrats will have 78 representatives in the next Ohio House to 61 Republicans. Republicans figure their chances are better in the House for the 1961 session.

In the 1959 Legislature, Republicans outnumbered Democrats 22-12 in the Senate and 97-42 in the House.

Four-year Senate terms resulted from voter approval of a change in the state constitution in the 1956 election. That ended regular two-year terms in the Senate without changing them for representatives.

The amendment provides for election of half the regular state senators to four-year terms every two years to provide for overlapping membership in the upper chamber.

The constitution provides for 33 state senatorial districts but there will be no election in the 30th-33rd district in 1960. That's because the district, which has two senators in the next session, will have only one in the 1961 session. Sen. Harry E. Schwall (R-Fulton) will be a four-year holdover. Sen. Tennyson Guyer (R-Hancock) was elected for only two years.

The population ratio for determining the number of senators in districts provides for 32 regular senators. Others are termed additional senators. The number of additional senators varies in some districts for various legislative sessions.

Additional senators in the 104th Legislature will come from these six districts with the principal county in parenthesis: 10th (Franklin), 11th - 12th (Miami), 17th-18th-19th-28th (Wayne), 20th-22nd (Jefferson), 21st (Stark) and 27th-29th (Lorain).

The conferences are being sponsored by the Driver and Safety Education Association, Department of Highway Safety and State Department of Education.

Gov. C. William O'Neil has proclaimed the regional meeting period as "Young Adults for Traffic Safety Month."

Rep. Knutson Declares She Isn't Going Home To Husband

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn) says she isn't going home to her husband.

"It has nothing to do with the elections," she told a reporter for the Philadelphia Inquirer Tuesday. "Andy and I are friends but there is no reconciliation."

The congresswoman was the only Democratic candidate not elected in Minnesota Nov. 4. A hitch developed in her re-election campaign when her husband Andy made a public "Come home, Coya" appeal.

He asked her to give up public life and return to their home and hotel business in Oklee, Minn.

After the election, Knutson brought a $200,000 suit against William Kjeldahl, his wife's congressional secretary, charging slander and alienation of affections. The suit was dropped last week.

Mrs. Knutson, narrowly defeated by Republican Odin Langen, has asked for a House investigation of the voting. She complains that her campaign suffered from what she calls false charges made by her husband.

Committee Chairman Clifford Davis (D-Tenn) said that an inquiry will be made.

Langen says he is in no way responsible for the "Come home, Coya" campaign.

Fujiyama said secret negotiations to revise a 1951 defense treaty with Washington would proceed on schedule next week. They have been suspended since Oct.22 because of a Japanses parliamentary dispute primarily concerning domestic matters.

Changed Mind Since 1957

Dirksen Will Support Bid To Change Filibuster Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill) announced today he will support efforts to modify the Senate's filibuster rule.

The rule now requires the votes of 64 senators to shut off debate, and the number rises to 66 when Alaska's two senators are seated. Some senators are demanding a rules change to make it easier to end filibusters.

Dirksen, who is in line to become the Senate's new Republican leader, said in an interview that he has changed his mind since he voted in 1957 against opening the Senate's rules to changes.

He now has come to the conclusion, Dirksen said, that Vice President Nixon had "logic on his side" in holding informally then that new rules can be adopted by majority vote at the beginning of each Congress.

His change of position lent added weight to a drive by Senate liberals to alter the filibuster provision.

Three of these, Senators Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill), Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) and Jacob K. Javits (R-NY), told a news conference Tuesday they are not going to make any deals in their fight to curb debate by a majority vote.

They have contended that if the present rule is permitted to stand, it will be impossible to pass additional civil rights legislation.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va) has said that Southern senators would consider a compromise by which two thirds of those voting —instead of the present two thirds of all the senators — could close debate, so long as it was established that the Senate carries over its rules from one Congress to another.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas has proposed such a compromise but Douglas, Case and Javits said it would not be acceptable to them.

On the other side, Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) forecast "a long, strenuous, vigorous and sacrificial fight" against any change in the present rule.

October Traffic Deaths Up From Period In '57

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council reported today traffic deaths in October were 4 per cent higher than in October a year ago — 3,590 against 3,450.

October brought an end to 13 months of uninterrupted traffic improvement. It was the second month of the last 23 to record an increase in highway fatalities over the corresponding month of the preceding year.

Council officials were unable to account for the increase.

Midland Noses Out Wellsville, 55-49, In Closing Minutes

Dan Baldwin Tallies 24 To Lead Scorers

By ROB NIBLOCK

A well-balanced and rangy Midland five spurted in the closing minutes to gain a hard-fought, 55-49, triumph over Coach Jack McDevitt's scrappy Wellsville Tigers in the curtain - raiser for both quints Tuesday night at Beacon Memorial Gymnasium.

Coach George Hamilton's Leopards broke a 42-42 deadlock with less than five minutes remaining and then staved off a late Wellsville bid.

PACED BY clever Dan Baldwin, who took scoring honors for the evening with 24 points, the young Wellsville outfit held the lead on several occasions in the see-saw affair.

An enthusiastic turnout of some 670 fans saw the taller Midland cagers' rebound strength prove decisive.

The Leopards' powerful center, Movie Smith, who sparked the offense with 18 points, grabbed off 23 of 58 Midland rebounds.

Meanwhile, Wellsville collected 33 balls off the boards, with Baldwin, who is two inches shorter than the 6-feet, 3-inch Smith, getting 13 of them.

Wellsville hit 15 of 38 shots and Midland 22 of 60.

Failure at the foul stripe was costly to the Tigers as they made only 19 of 34. Midland netted 11 of 25.

—:—

THE WELLSVILLE performance came as a mild surprise, with only one letterman, Baldwin, on the roster.

The starting unit, which includes two sophomores and a pair of juniors, showed promise in pre-season drills, and then revealed ability to withstand pressure in last night's game.

Bill DeSarro, a 5-6 sophomore guard, made an impressive varsity debut, turning in a steady floor game and contributing two field goals.

Performing equally well was the other sophomore, Bob Kiggans, a 6-foot, 2-inch forward who had nine points and came up with several rebounds .Midway through the fourth quarter, he dropped in a dazzling hook from the right-hand side to knot the score at 42-42.

THREE Midland starters hit for double figures. Frank Aloi, 5-foot, 11-inch guard, clicked for 11 points, being especially effective on a one - hander from outside. Lanky Gene Lake had five field goals for 10 points.

Guard Nick Vuckovich, who poured in three outside shots in the third quarter, finished with eight points. The other starter, Steve Yesto, had seven.

Plagued by opening - game jitters, both teams had trouble finding the range in the first quarter, which ended 6-6. Baldwin and Lake were the only cagers able to hit for field goals in the period.

But at the end of the second period, which was the Leopards most productive point - wise, the score had jumped to 26-24 in favor of Midland.

Wellsville was still not especially effective from the field, getting only four buckets, but marched to the foul line 14 times and missed only two attempts.

Smith, Aloi and Lake sparked the Leopard attack in that period. Combined, the trio had 17 points. Smith got three buckets on tips and picked up three more points on free throws. Aloi and Lake kept the Wellsville defenses loose by pumping in a pair each from back court.

—:—

SPARKED by Kiggans and Baldwin, the Tigers came back strong after intermission and held a one- or two - point lead until Vuckovich got hot from the outside near the end of the third quarter.

Trailing 36-42 at the beginning of the final quarter, Baldwin almost single - handedly kept the Bengals in contention.

He hit on a jump from the key and followed with two successful free throws to put Wellsville within striking distance. Kiggans' hook made it a new game with only minutes remaining.

But Smith immediately put the Leopards in command on a driving two - pointer, and Lake added a bucket on a one - hand shot from about 20 feet.

Two more goals by Baldwin and one by DeSarro kept Wellsville in reach of victory with less than four minutes remaining. However, Smith clicked on a jump from the foul line to give Midland a four-point lead, 52-48.

Parker clinched the victory with another field goal.

Grid Banquet Ticket Sale Begins Today

Tickets for the annual football banquet of East Liverpool High School next Tuesday night went on sale at two places today following completion of plans for the affair at Tuesday night's meeting of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club in the YMCA.

Potter fans may buy tickets at the Burbick Hardware store or Travelers Hotel at $2.50 each, Ed Hester, general chairman, reported. Tickets also may be secured from J. Allen Montgomery at FU 5-3431. Montgomery has agreed to deliver tickets to those not able to purchase them elsewhere.

Vince Costello of the Cleveland Browns will be guest speaker for the banquet at 6:30 in Westgate Junior High School. Awards will be presented to the Potter team, including the Bill Booth Memorial Trophy.

In other business, the club voted to feed the Potter cagers after all away games except those in nearby communities. Dick Forzano, membership co - chairman, reported 450 members signed this year — 50 short of a goal of 500.

Wrestling coach Lou Venditti discussed progress of this year's squad. The Potter grapplers will face Brilliant in their first match Saturday afternoon at the Jefferson County school.

H. A. Tullis, president, presided. The next meeting will be in two weeks because of the football banquet.

Potter Cager Treated For Injured Elbow

George Owens, a member of East Liverpool High School's varsity basketball squad, was treated at City Hospital Tuesday night for a possible fractured elbow suffered in a scrimmage game. School officials said today, however, that he had pinched a muscle in his arm and there were no breaks in the bone.

South Side Loses Opener By 68-43 To Bessemer Five

BESSEMER — Unable to solve a pressing man-for-man defense which Bessemer employed throughout the game, Coach George Thompson's South Side cagers dropped their opener, 68-43, here Tuesday night.

While South Side's best individual point-production was nine by Rich Ashcroft who got them all in the first half, Hardesty and Anderson meshed 19 and 16, respectively, for the visitors.

Bessemer reserves also downed the freshman-studded South Side JV team, 43-14.

Waterford Park Gets 107 Racing Days In '59

Waterford Park has been assigned a total of 107 days for racing in 1959 by the West Virginia State Racing Commission.

The mile oval in Hancock County will have 43 days from April 11 through May 30 for a spring meet, another 43 days in the summer period from July 29 to Sept. 7, and 21 days in the fall from Nov. 4 through Nov. 28, excluding Thanksgiving.

Wheeling Downs was assigned 48 days from June 1 through July 25 and another 46 days from Sept. 9 through Oct. 31, all for night racing, the commission said.

Whirlaway in 1942 and Citation in 1948 won the Pimlico Special in walk-overs. The Calumet Farm color bearers scared away all competition.

Salineville Loses To United, 56-42

United High served notice that it will be in for a share of Columbiana County's Class A honors this season by opening the 1958 cage campaign with a 56-42 triumph over Salineville Tuesday night at the Hanoverton school.

The Eagles posted an 11-6 record last year while losing the county championship crown in an overtime battle. They have the same club back again this year.

Led by the scoring of hefty Jim Summer, 6-foot, 240-pound guard, and towering Frank Shagnot, 6-5 center, the Eagles jumped out to an early lead and were never headed.

Summer and Shagnot each dumped in 15 points while Gary Lindesmith finished with 9.

Salineville, although posting a better shooting average, found United's superior height too much of a problem to overcome. United had quarter leads of 18-9, 34-19, and 43-32.

Both teams had an off night at the foul stripe, with the winners sinking only 14 of 29 and Salineville making 10 of 25.

Rich Dunlap topped the Salineville point producers with 15 on five field goals and five foul shots, while Larry Kessler posted 10 points.

United also whipped Coach Dick Jones' club twice last season. In the preliminary, United's reserves defeated the Salineville jayvees, 27-19. Bill Taylor and Wayne Ramsey had 8 points each for the winners. Doug Hillyer had 6 points for the Salineville reserves.

Coach Bob Penrod's Eagles face Irondale Friday night, while Salineville entertains Springfield Friday.

Fairfield - Waterford's defending Columbiana County A champs of 1957 wrapped up their opening game of the 1958 season Tuesday night at Fairfield by edging visiting North Lima, 61-57, in a tight contest which saw the score tied seven times.

Coach Bing Newton's Rebels trailed two points at halftime, but surged in the final two periods to preserve the victory.

Lee Chamberlain, 6-1 junior center, popped in 22 points on 11 field goals and Laverne Keslar, senior forward, sank two field goals and 14 of 16 foul attempts for 18 points to spark the attack of the winners.

Lee Moore led North Lima's scoring with 14 points. It was the first game for Fairfield-Waterford after last week's game with Springfield was postponed because of inclement weather.

North Lima managed to salvage the reserve game by nipping Fairfield-Waterford's reserves, 41-40.

Midland Noses Out Wellsville, 55-49, In Closing Minutes

Dan Baldwin Tallies 24 To Lead Scorers

By ROB NIBLOCK

A well-balanced and rangy Midland five spurted in the closing minutes to gain a hard-fought, 55-49, triumph over Coach Jack McDevitt's scrappy Wellsville Tigers in the curtain - raiser for both quints Tuesday night at Beacon Memorial Gymnasium.

Coach George Hamilton's Leopards broke a 42-42 deadlock with less than five minutes remaining and then staved off a late Wellsville bid.

PACED BY clever Dan Baldwin, who took scoring honors for the evening with 24 points, the young Wellsville outfit held the lead on several occasions in the see-saw affair.

An enthusiastic turnout of some 670 fans saw the taller Midland cagers' rebound strength prove decisive.

The Leopards' powerful center, Movie Smith, who sparked the offense with 18 points, grabbed off 23 of 58 Midland rebounds.

Meanwhile, Wellsville collected 33 balls off the boards, with Baldwin, who is two inches shorter than the 6-feet, 3-inch Smith, getting 13 of them.

Wellsville hit 15 of 38 shots and Midland 22 of 60.

Failure at the foul stripe was costly to the Tigers as they made only 19 of 34. Midland netted 11 of 25.

—:—

THE WELLSVILLE performance came as a mild surprise, with only one letterman, Baldwin, on the roster.

The starting unit, which includes two sophomores and a pair of juniors, showed promise in pre-season drills, and then revealed ability to withstand pressure in last night's game.

Bill DeSarro, a 5-6 sophomore guard, made an impressive varsity debut, turning in a steady floor game and contributing two field goals.

Performing equally well was the other sophomore, Bob Kiggans, a 6-foot, 2-inch forward who had nine points and came up with several rebounds .Midway through the fourth quarter, he dropped in a dazzling hook from the right-hand side to knot the score at 42-42.

The juniors, Franklin Johnson and Milton Lamp, stalwarts on last year's reserve team, chipped in with eight and five points, respectively.

THREE Midland starters hit for double figures. Frank Aloi, 5-foot, 11-inch guard, clicked for 11 points, being especially effective on a one - hander from outside. Lanky Gene Lake had five field goals for 10 points.

Guard Nick Vuckovich, who poured in three outside shots in the third quarter, finished with eight points. The other starter, Steve Yesto, had seven.

Plagued by opening - game jitters, both teams had trouble finding the range in the first quarter, which ended 6-6. Baldwin and Lake were the only cagers able to hit for field goals in the period.

But at the end of the second period, which was the Leopards most productive point - wise, the score had jumped to 26-24 in favor of Midland.

Wellsville was still not especially effective from the field, getting only four buckets, but marched to the foul line 14 times and missed only two attempts.

Smith, Aloi and Lake sparked the Leopard attack in that period. Combined, the trio had 17 points. Smith got three buckets on tips and picked up three more points on free throws. Aloi and Lake kept the Wellsville defenses loose by pumping in a pair each from back court.

—:—

SPARKED by Kiggans and Baldwin, the Tigers came back strong after intermission and held a one- or two - point lead until Vuckovich got hot from the outside near the end of the third quarter.

Trailing 36-42 at the beginning of the final quarter, Baldwin almost single - handedly kept the Bengals in contention.

He hit on a jump from the key and followed with two successful free throws to put Wellsville within striking distance. Kiggans' hook made it a new game with only minutes remaining.

But Smith immediately put the Leopards in command on a driving two - pointer, and Lake added a bucket on a one - hand shot from about 20 feet.

Two more goals by Baldwin and one by DeSarro kept Wellsville in reach of victory with less than four minutes remaining. However, Smith clicked on a jump from the foul line to give Midland a four-point lead, 52-48.

Grid Banquet Ticket Sale Begins Today

Tickets for the annual football banquet of East Liverpool High School next Tuesday night went on sale at two places today following completion of plans for the affair at Tuesday night's meeting of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club in the YMCA.

Potter fans may buy tickets at the Burbick Hardware store or Travelers Hotel at $2.50 each, Ed Hester, general chairman, reported. Tickets also may be secured from J. Allen Montgomery at FU 5-3431. Montgomery has agreed to deliver tickets to those not able to purchase them elsewhere.

Vince Costello of the Cleveland Browns will be guest speaker for the banquet at 6:30 in Westgate Junior High School. Awards will be presented to the Potter team, including the Bill Booth Memorial Trophy.

In other business, the club voted to feed the Potter cagers after all away games except those in nearby communities. Dick Forzano, membership co - chairman, reported 450 members signed this year — 50 short of a goal of 500.

Wrestling coach Lou Venditti discussed progress of this year's squad. The Potter grapplers will face Brilliant in their first match Saturday afternoon at the Jefferson County school.

H. A. Tullis, president, presided. The next meeting will be in two weeks because of the football banquet.

Potter Cager Treated For Injured Elbow

George Owens, a member of East Liverpool High School's varsity basketball squad, was treated at City Hospital Tuesday night for a possible fractured elbow suffered in a scrimmage game. School officials said today, however, that he had pinched a muscle in his arm and there were no breaks in the bone.

South Side Loses Opener By 68-43 To Bessemer Five

BESSEMER — Unable to solve a pressing man-for-man defense which Bessemer employed throughout the game, Coach George Thompson's South Side cagers dropped their opener, 68-43, here Tuesday night.

While South Side's best individual point-production was nine by Rich Ashcroft who got them all in the first half, Hardesty and Anderson meshed 19 and 16, respectively, for the visitors.

Trailing throughout the contest, a five-point third quarter proved especially costly to South Side.

Bessemer reserves also downed the freshman-studded South Side JV team, 43-14.

Waterford Park has been assigned a total of 107 days for racing in 1959 by the West Virginia State Racing Commission.

The mile oval in Hancock County will have 43 days from April 11 through May 30 for a spring meet, another 43 days in the summer period from July 29 to Sept. 7, and 21 days in the fall from Nov. 4 through Nov. 28, excluding Thanksgiving.

Wheeling Downs was assigned 48 days from June 1 through July 25 and another 46 days from Sept. 9 through Oct. 31, all for night racing, the commission said.

Whirlaway in 1942 and Citation in 1948 won the Pimlico Special in walk-overs. The Calumet Farm color bearers scared away all competition.

Midland's Reserves Defeat Tigers, 51-35

Paced by Carl Anderson and Barney Silverman, who combined for 38 points, the Midland reserves lead all the way in defeating Coach Carl Firm's Wellsville Reserves, 51-35.

Anderson flipped in 17 points—high for both squads — and Silverman contributed 11.

Sophomore Phil Baldwin lead Wellsville, hitting for 10 points on two field goals and six free throws. Gray was second high for the losers with eight.

Salineville Loses To United, 56-42

United High served notice that it will be in for a share of Columbiana County's Class A honors this season by opening the 1958 cage campaign with a 56-42 triumph over Salineville Tuesday night at the Hanoverton school.

The Eagles posted an 11-6 record last year while losing the county championship crown in an overtime battle. They have the same club back again this year.

Led by the scoring of hefty Jim Summer, 6-foot, 240-pound guard, and towering Frank Shagnot, 6-5 center, the Eagles jumped out to an early lead and were never headed.

Summer and Shagnot each dumped in 15 points while Gary Lindesmith finished with 9.

Salineville, although posting a better shooting average, found United's superior height too much of a problem to overcome. United had quarter leads of 18-9, 34-19, and 43-32.

Both teams had an off night at the foul stripe, with the winners sinking only 14 of 29 and Salineville making 10 of 25.

Rich Dunlap topped the Salineville point producers with 15 on five field goals and five foul shots, while Larry Kessler posted 10 points.

United also whipped Coach Dick Jones' club twice last season. In the preliminary, United's reserves defeated the Salineville jayvees, 27-19. Bill Taylor and Wayne Ramsey had 8 points each for the winners. Doug Hillyer had 6 points for the Salineville reserves.

Coach Bob Penrod's Eagles face Irondale Friday night, while Salineville entertains Springfield Friday.

Fairfield-Waterford Cagers Defeat North Lima By 61-57

Fairfield - Waterford's defending Columbiana County A champs of 1957 wrapped up their opening game of the 1958 season Tuesday night at Fairfield by edging visiting North Lima, 61-57, in a tight contest which saw the score tied seven times.

Coach Bing Newton's Rebels trailed two points at halftime, but surged in the final two periods to preserve the victory.

Lee Chamberlain, 6-1 junior center, popped in 22 points on 11 field goals and Laverne Keslar, senior forward, sank two field goals and 14 of 16 foul attempts for 18 points to spark the attack of the winners.

Lee Moore led North Lima's scoring with 14 points. It was the first game for Fairfield-Waterford after last week's game with Springfield was postponed because of inclement weather.

North Lima managed to salvage the reserve game by nipping Fairfield-Waterford's reserves, 41-40.

Beaver Local Quint Wins Opener, 54-30

Grubb, Main Pace Victory With 14 Each

Coach Jack Frontone's Beaver Local five, out to improve on last year's losing season, opened its cage campaign in convincing fashion Tuesday night by trouncing Northwestern, 54-30, at the loser's court.

Operating a tight man-for-man defense, the Beavers broke on top early in the first period and stayed there for the remainder of the game in outhustling Northwestern's taller quint.

Jay Grubb, a 5-11 senior and Frank Main, also a senior, sparked the Beavers attack with 14 points each. Bill Lyder, a senior, chipped in with 13 and Mike Durbin, a sophomore, finished with nine. Durbin is the only non-letterman on the starting five.

Thurman Allen, although scoring only two points on a pair of foul conversions, led the Beavers in rebounding and spearheaded the defense.

Beaver Local showed an eight-point margin at the end of the first quarter, had a 20 point spread at halftime, and eased to victory by posting a 46-18 lead at the end of three quarters. The Beavers had a hot night in field goal shooting, posting a 47 per cent average.

In the preliminary, Beaver Local also proved superior as Coach Bobby Bush's reserves whipped the Northwestern reserves, 46-38. Frontone's club will shoot for its second win Friday night by entertaining Augusta. The squad had a 6-9 record under Frontone last year.

1958 Little All-America Team Chosen

NEW YORK (AP) — From 11 schools which lost only a total of 20 football games comes The Associated Press Little All America for 1958.

The players from schools in 10 states form a speedy, hard hitting backfield averaging 186 pounds and a rock-ribbed line that tips the scales at an average of 207. Ten of the first team are seniors. The lone junior is Carlos Gonzales, whose play at guard was a big factor in California Poly's 8-1-0 record.

Forming the backfield are John Green of Chattanooga, which lost 4 of its 10 games but beat Tennessee; Sam McCord of East Texas State; Robert Webb of St. Ambrose and Edward Meador of Arkansas Tech. East Texas wound up with an 8-1-0 record, St. Ambrose 3-4-1 and Arkansas Tech 7-2.

Paired at guard with Gonzales is Charles Davis of McMurry (6-4). The tackles are Richard Emerich of West Chester Teachers, whose 10-game schedule was marred only by an opening game loss to Villanova, and Robert Baake of Wheaton (9-0-0). The center is William Long of Willamette (8-1-0).

Flanking the line are ends Robert Yencho of Mississippi Southern (9-0-0) and Tom Taylor of Albion (6-2).

Heaviest man on the first team, which has sent many of its members on to fame in the professional ranks in past years, is Gonzales at 230 pounds.

McCord is the lighest man in the backfield at 172 pounds, Webb the heaviest at 201.

Spider Webb Chosen As Boxer-Of-Month

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The National Boxing Assn. today gave its boxer-of-the-month award to Chicago's Spider Webb, winner of the only major bout staged in November.

Fred J. Saddy, chairman of the NBA's rating committee, said Webb's selection was automatic because "top flight boxing competition was so scarce."

Webb stopped Joey Giardello of Philadelphia in the seventh round of their scheduled 10-rounder at San Francisco's Cow Palace Nov. 20. Giardello looked as though he had been put through a meat chopper.

The victory enabled Webb to vault from seventh to third place in the middleweight ratings. Giardello dropped from third to fourth.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

Lou Emelo of Salem is the big boy among the bow hunters this season, having bagged a button buck just off Egypt Rd. last Saturday afternoon.

Hunters know there are deer in this area, almost within the city limits of Salem.

Generally speaking, the deer range covers about all of the county. In some sections, however, below Lisbon in the hills and strip mine sections the going is pretty rough. Consequently, the hunters take their stands and depend upon the others to get the deer moving. The result: the hunters wait on the deer, while the deer remain undisturbed.

—:—

I DO NOT advocate feeding the birds who winter in Ohio, since Nature has endowed them with the stamina and know - how to survive the most rugged weather, quail being the exception.

Corn, the number one food for both birds and animals, should be scattered around under brush piles, along fence rows and in briar patches. The game will find it.

While sitting in a barber shop, near Damascus, I observed numerous slate - colored juncos. They seemed to relish the rough weather.

These so - called "snowbirds" that nest in Alaska and Quebec seemed to be having a picnic eating the seeds of the crab grass sticking up above the snow.

They don't need bird feeders to survive. During the summer weather they live mostly on insects, but during the winter weed seeds are sufficient.

I RECEIVED one of the Remington Arms Co. news releases recently and was very interested in what they have to say about importing cottontails from the 'have plenty' states into states where rabbit demands exceeded the supply.

To quote: "It used to be that game officials tried to take up the slack by importing live-trapped bunnies. About all the good accomplished was that it put a lot of Missouri farm boys through college."

Against all advice by the leading game authorities in America, some clubs insist on importing and releasing rabbits.

If the findings of the state technicians after many years of research prove that rabbits costing a dollar or so were costing 20 to 30 dollars by the time they reached the hunter's bag, why is this practice continued?

The most that can be said is that it makes the membership happy.

If the sportsmen do not believe in research, then they might as well say there is not prevention for polio or smallpox. Without research there would never have been a vaccine discovered to check these diseases.

Indians' Boss Is On Another Trading Binge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank Lane, Cleveland general manager, is on another swapping binge.

Within the space of a few hours Tuesday he (1) shipped First baseman Vic Wertz and outfielder Gary Geiger to Boston for centerfielder Jimmy Piersall and (2) shunted infield Bobby Avila to Baltimore for pitcher Russ Heman and a reported $30,000 in cash.

Avila may wind up at second base for the Orioles because Billy Gardner had an off season in 1958. Or the 32-year-old Mexican-born infielder may be a utility man filling in at second or third base.

Joe Gordon, Cleveland manager, said Piersall will be his center fielder.

He said the Indians had good scouting reports on Heman, a 6 foot 4 righthander who had a 9-12 record last season with the Orioles' farm at Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League.

Detroit kept the trade mill busy by sending pitcher Herb Moford, a right-hander, to Boston for catcher Lou Berberet.

Musuraca Given Berth On Jaycees' All-Ohio

Additional honors were bestowed upon East Liverpool High's Nick Musuraca today. Musuraca, named to the All - Ohio second defensive unit last week, received a telegram from Columbus this morning announcing he had been awarded a berth on the Jaycee All - Ohio football squad.

Army's Pete Dawkins Wins Heisman Trophy

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP — "Flabbergasted!"

That was the comment today of the first captain and brigade commander of the Corps of Cadets, the president of the first (senior) class, and the captain of the Army football team on the selection of Pete Dawkins as winner of the Heisman Trophy as the outstanding college football player of 1958.

Just in case you think they stifle individual expression at the Academy, the comment was made by one man who holds all of those honors on the Plains — Pete Dawkins. He also sings and will travel. He wants to join the Air Force when commissioned in June.

"Flabbergasted" was Pete Dawkins but no one else at this gray fortress on the Hudson where the cheers still echo from Army's great undefeated season and resounding victory over Navy.

"He is an inspirational leader and well deserving of the award," said Col. Earl (Red) Blaik, the Army coach.

"It's wonderful to hear about it," said Dawkins. "I want to thank everyone concerned and specially to a great gang of fellows on our team and Col. Blaik for making it all possible."

The versatile, 20-year old halfback from Royal Oak, Mich., won the Heisman Trophy by a substantial margin in the voting by 1,191 sports writers and sportscasters. The nationwide poll was conducted by the Downtown A.C. He will receive his trophy at the club's annual dinner at the Downtown A.C. Wednesday, Dec. 10.

Dawkins received 296 first-place votes and 1,394 points. Randy Duncan, quarterback of Iowa's Big Ten champions, was second (194 and 1,021) and halfback Billy Cannon of Louisiana State, No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, (198 and 975).

Will Settle For Even Break, Columbiana's Coach Says

COLUMBIANA — With nine of last year's varsity — which compiled a 16-7 record — graduated and only one letterman in the fold, Coach Rich Berryman hopes for an "even split" for his Columbiana Clipper cagers this season.

Ray Baltz, a 6-foot, 2-inch junior, is the only numeral winner to return from the 1957-58 squad, which was beaten in the regionals last year at Canton by Northwestern.

The Clippers will open next Tuesday at home against North Lima, with a squad replete with sophomores.

Berryman has not picked his starters, other than Baltz, and reports that two seniors, four juniors and seven sophomores will be bidding for starting roles.

The Clippers, who play an 18-game schedule, have 10 contests at home.

Berryman, a 1947 graduate of Columbiana High, who played on the state championship team that year, begins his seventh year as the Clipper basketball mentor. He is a 1951 graduate of Ohio State University.

Ted Ossoff, formerly of Fairfield, will handle the Junior High coaching chores and George Fisher will coach the reserves. The varsity schedule follows:

Beaver Sixth Graders Defeat Negley, 37-25

Beaver Local's sixth grade cagers won their second straight game Tuesday night by defeating Negley's sixth graders, 37-25, at the Beavers' Court.

Dennis Horger and Norman Gaydos poured in 33 points between them in sparking Beaver Local's scoring. Horger was tops with 17, while Gaydos had 16. Negley's fifth graders won the preliminary, 20-6, over Beaver Local's fifth grade team.

Don Fraley Scores 22 As Irons Win By 47-45

Diminutive Don Fraley, 5-8 jump shot whiz, pumped in 22 points to lead Irondale High to an opening season victory over Brilliant Tuesday night, 47-45, on the Irondale court.

The Irons, who won a squeaker, made new coach Les Douglas' debut a successful one by spurting in the second half after trailing by one field goal at the end of three periods.

Fraley, who averaged about 18 points a game in 1957, found the range for 10 field goals and two of four foul shots in topping all scorers for the night.

Brother Lon Fraley, a junior guard, aided the scoring attack of the Irons with nine points on a field goal and seven of 12 foul attempts.

Rangy Gale Boggs, 6-3 center, and Bill Chetock each chipped in with seven points for the winners. Irondale posted one less field goal than the winners, but cashed in at the foul stripe for the victory.

Jack Hoover and Matt Kessler led Brilliant scoring with 15 and 10 points, respectively.

In the preliminary, Irondale's reserves found things a little easier than the varsity in routing Brilliant's reserves, 45-8. Bob Mills, 6-foot freshman, posted 14 points for the Irondale reserves.

Army's Novogratz Wins Lineman Of The Week Honors

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Navy Coach Eddie Erdelatz has nightmares during the coming months the chief villain probably will be a strapping, 6 feet 2, 210 pound lad from Northampton, Pa. whom Erdelatz last saw wearing Army jersey No. 61.

This would be Bob Novogratz, whose play in helping the Cadets defeat Navy 22-6 last Saturday in Philadelphia' Municipal Stadium today earned him honors as Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press.

Novogratz gave the impression to the 102,000 half-frozen spectators and to many in the television audience that he was all over the field at once.

A senior who will play for the East in the East-West Shrine game in San Francisco, Novogratz was a veritable rock on defense as a linebacker. He recovered three fumbles, one by teammate Bob Anderson on the Navy 24 that kept alive a drive for Army's second touchdown.

He stopped a Navy drive in the first period by pouncing on Joe Bellino's fumble on the Navy 43, then recovered Navy center Jim Dunn's miscue after Dunn had intercepted a pass on his 14 and run it out to the Navy 30.

West Virginia Defeats VMI

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

West Virginia, the Southern Conference powerhouse and the nation's top-ranked team last season, has won two games in the opening two days of the college basketball season.

But for the second night in succession, the Mountaineers have had to come from behind in the second half. They did it in defeating VMI 82-71 Tuesday night, extending conference skein to 38 consecutive victories.

The triumph was not secured until the final two minutes. The Keydets held a brief lead early in the second half and after dissipating it deadlocked the game at 70-70 with 2:46 remaining. The Mountaineers, however, turned on their vaunted fast break in the closing moments.

Pivotal second-half rallies were the order of the night.

Wake Forest got hot in the last three minutes to beat Davidson 56-52. Virginia finished strong in defeating William and Mary 85-74 and a driving layup by Ken Coulter in the final five seconds enabled Tennessee to down Wyoming 72-71.

In other games, less closely contested, Illinois trimmed Butler 103-79, Marquette walloped Wisconsin 76-47, Oklahoma City beat Southern Methodist 74-51 and Xavier of Ohio, last season's National Invitation Tournament winner, downed John Carroll 91-71.

Chuck Cotton of VMI gave West Virginia a rough time. He scored 30 points. Heralded Jerry West had 19 for the Mountaineers, who eked out a 76-67 victory over Furman in the season opener Monday night.

Wake Forest, which led most of the way, was caught by Davidson at 50-all with three minutes to go. But the Deacons piled up their winning margin on free throws. Dave Hollingsworth had 20 points for the winners.

Illinois connected on eight of its first 11 shots and raced to a 17-2 lead. Twice in the second half Butler pulled to within 13 points, but each time the Illini put on the pressure to go far in front.

Asks Civil Service Plan

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Hamilton County Good Government League wants county commissioners to junk the appointment, or patronage, system of getting county employes and substitute a civil service system. The suggestion was presented to commissioners Tuesday and Mrs. Iola Hessler, league executive director, said only 25 per cent of nearly 3,000 county workers are under civil service and these are only in the sheriff's and the welfare offices.

Beaver Local Quint Wins Opener, 54-30

Grubb, Main Pace Victory With 14 Each

Coach Jack Frontone's Beaver Local five, out to improve on last year's losing season, opened its cage campaign in convincing fashion Tuesday night by trouncing Northwestern, 54-30, at the loser's court.

Operating a tight man-for-man defense, the Beavers broke on top early in the first period and stayed there for the remainder of the game in outhustling Northwestern's taller quint.

Jay Grubb, a 5-11 senior and Frank Main, also a senior, sparked the Beavers attack with 14 points each. Bill Lyder, a senior, chipped in with 13 and Mike Durbin, a sophomore, finished with nine. Durbin is the only non-letterman on the starting five.

Thurman Allen, although scoring only two points on a pair of foul conversions, led the Beavers in rebounding and spearheaded the defense.

Beaver Local showed an eight-point margin at the end of the first quarter, had a 20 point spread at halftime, and eased to victory by posting a 46-18 lead at the end of three quarters. The Beavers had a hot night in field goal shooting, posting a 47 per cent average.

In the preliminary, Beaver Local also proved superior as Coach Bobby Bush's reserves whipped the Northwestern reserves, 46-38. Frontone's club will shoot for its second win Friday night by entertaining Augusta. The squad had a 6-9 record under Frontone last year.

1958 Little All-America Team Chosen

NEW YORK (AP) — From 11 schools which lost only a total of 20 football games comes The Associated Press Little All America for 1958.

The players from schools in 10 states form a speedy, hard hitting backfield averaging 186 pounds and a rock-ribbed line that tips the scales at an average of 207. Ten of the first team are seniors. The lone junior is Carlos Gonzales, whose play at guard was a big factor in California Poly's 8-1-0 record.

Forming the backfield are John Green of Chattanooga, which lost 4 of its 10 games but beat Tennessee; Sam McCord of East Texas State; Robert Webb of St. Ambrose and Edward Meador of Arkansas Tech. East Texas wound up with an 8-1-0 record, St. Ambrose 3-4-1 and Arkansas Tech 7-2.

Paired at guard with Gonzales is Charles Davis of McMurry (6-4). The tackles are Richard Emerich of West Chester Teachers, whose 10-game schedule was marred only by an opening game loss to Villanova, and Robert Baake of Wheaton (9-0-0). The center is William Long of Willamette (8-1-0).

Flanking the line are ends Robert Yencho of Mississippi Southern (9-0-0) and Tom Taylor of Albion (6-2).

Heaviest man on the first team, which has sent many of its members on to fame in the professional ranks in past years, is Gonzales at 230 pounds.

McCord is the lighest man in the backfield at 172 pounds, Webb the heaviest at 201.

Spider Webb Chosen As Boxer-Of-Month

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The National Boxing Assn. today gave its boxer-of-the-month award to Chicago's Spider Webb, winner of the only major bout staged in November.

Fred J. Saddy, chairman of the NBA's rating committee, said Webb's selection was automatic because "top flight boxing competition was so scarce."

Webb stopped Joey Giardello of Philadelphia in the seventh round of their scheduled 10-rounder at San Francisco's Cow Palace Nov. 20. Giardello looked as though he had been put through a meat chopper.

The victory enabled Webb to vault from seventh to third place in the middleweight ratings. Giardello dropped from third to fourth.

Lou Emelo of Salem is the big boy among the bow hunters this season, having bagged a button buck just off Egypt Rd. last Saturday afternoon.

Hunters know there are deer in this area, almost within the city limits of Salem.

Generally speaking, the deer range covers about all of the county. In some sections, however, below Lisbon in the hills and strip mine sections the going is pretty rough. Consequently, the hunters take their stands and depend upon the others to get the deer moving. The result: the hunters wait on the deer, while the deer remain undisturbed.

I DO NOT advocate feeding the birds who winter in Ohio, since Nature has endowed them with the stamina and know - how to survive the most rugged weather, quail being the exception.

Corn, the number one food for both birds and animals, should be scattered around under brush piles, along fence rows and in briar patches. The game will find it.

While sitting in a barber shop, near Damascus, I observed numerous slate - colored juncos. They seemed to relish the rough weather.

These so - called "snowbirds" that nest in Alaska and Quebec seemed to be having a picnic eating the seeds of the crab grass sticking up above the snow.

They don't need bird feeders to survive. During the summer weather they live mostly on insects, but during the winter weed seeds are sufficient.

—:—

I RECEIVED one of the Remington Arms Co. news releases recently and was very interested in what they have to say about importing cottontails from the 'have plenty' states into states where rabbit demands exceeded the supply.

To quote: "It used to be that game officials tried to take up the slack by importing live-trapped bunnies. About all the good accomplished was that it put a lot of Missouri farm boys through college."

Against all advice by the leading game authorities in America, some clubs insist on importing and releasing rabbits.

If the findings of the state technicians after many years of research prove that rabbits costing a dollar or so were costing 20 to 30 dollars by the time they reached the hunter's bag, why is this practice continued?

The most that can be said is that it makes the membership happy.

If the sportsmen do not believe in research, then they might as well say there is not prevention for polio or smallpox. Without research there would never have been a vaccine discovered to check these diseases.

Indians' Boss Is On Another Trading Binge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank Lane, Cleveland general manager, is on another swapping binge.

Within the space of a few hours Tuesday he (1) shipped First baseman Vic Wertz and outfielder Gary Geiger to Boston for center-fielder Jimmy Piersall and (2) shunted infield Bobby Avila to Baltimore for pitcher Russ Heman and a reported $30,000 in cash.

Avila may wind up at second base for the Orioles because Billy Gardner had an off season in 1958. Or the 32-year-old Mexican-born infielder may be a utility man filling in at second or third base.

Wertz, 33, will be the Boston first baseman, perhaps alternating with Dick Gernert, a right-handed batter. Geiger will battle with Marty Keough and Gene Stephens for the center field job with the Red Sox.

Joe Gordon, Cleveland manager, said Piersall will be his center fielder.

He said the Indians had good scouting reports on Heman, a 6 foot 4 righthander who had a 9-12 record last season with the Orioles' farm at Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League.

Detroit kept the trade mill busy by sending pitcher Herb Moford, a right-hander, to Boston for catcher Lou Berberet.

Army's Pete Dawkins Wins Heisman Trophy

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP — "Flabbergasted!"

That was the comment today of the first captain and brigade commander of the Corps of Cadets, the president of the first (senior) class, and the captain of the Army football team on the selection of Pete Dawkins as winner of the Heisman Trophy as the outstanding college football player of 1958.

Just in case you think they stifle individual expression at the Academy, the comment was made by one man who holds all of those honors on the Plains — Pete Dawkins. He also sings and will travel. He wants to join the Air Force when commissioned in June.

"It's wonderful to hear about it," said Dawkins. "I want to thank everyone concerned and specially to a great gang of fellows on our team and Col. Blaik for making it all possible."

The versatile, 20-year old halfback from Royal Oak, Mich., won the Heisman Trophy by a substantial margin in the voting by 1,191 sports writers and sportscasters. The nationwide poll was conducted by the Downtown A.C. He will receive his trophy at the club's annual dinner at the Downtown A.C. Wednesday, Dec. 10.

Dawkins received 296 first-place votes and 1,394 points. Randy Duncan, quarterback of Iowa's Big Ten champions, was second (194 and 1,021) and halfback Billy Cannon of Louisiana State, No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, (198 and 975).

COLUMBIANA — With nine of last year's varsity — which compiled a 16-7 record — graduated and only one letterman in the fold, Coach Rich Berryman hopes for an "even split" for his Columbiana Clipper cagers this season.

The Clippers will open next Tuesday at home against North Lima, with a squad replete with sophomores.

Berryman has not picked his starters, other than Baltz, and reports that two seniors, four juniors and seven sophomores will be bidding for starting roles.

Baseball Magnates Oppose Players' Salary Demands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Baseball magnates today formed an angry, united front against the major league players' bid for a cut of the owners' income and minor leaguers' demands for a pension plan.

The big league players, already bulwarked by a pension plan supported by World Series radio and television money, jolted their employers Tuesday with a salary proposal calling for 20 per cent of each club's gross revenue.

At the same time, International League executives were shocked by the threat of a strike by their players after the officials' refusal to buckle to an ultimatum by the athletes' lawyer.

"You will accept the pension plan or you will not have International League baseball," Atty. James Durante was reported as saying.

"The International League directors are fully sympathetic to the players' request," said Frank Horton, president of the Rochester club, who reported Durante's words.

But Horton added the directors "could find no way, within the economic framework of the league to raise the more than a quarter of a million dollars to underwrite a pension plan."

Durante had informed the International League the players had resolved not to sign 1959 contracts nor to report to spring training until the pension plan was accepted. As outlined by Durante, it would cost $293,000 annually. The blueprint called for the players to pay $37,000 ($1.50 a day per player), with the league putting up the remaining $256,000 or $32,000 per club.

At least one owner, Tom Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox, hinted he might pull out of baseball if the players continued to press for what he termed exorbitant demands.

Earlier, the players changed tactics when their attorney J. Norman Lewis and their 16 team representatives withdrew their original request for 25 per cent of the regular season radio and television receipts of the two leagues.

The players then shot back with their 20 per cent of gross receipts plan.

Colo Of Browns Plans Retirement After '58 Season

CLEVELAND (AP) — Tackle Don Colo, captain of the Cleveland Browns, says he is retiring from professional football at the end of this season.

"I have been thinking about the move for sometime but made the decision only a few weeks back," said the 6-4 255-pound defensive lineman. He will go to work with a local trucking firm.

Colo is the second veteran Browns' defender to announce his retirement. Halfback Don Paul said recently this is his last season.

After last Sunday's game with the Washington Redskins, Colo told Coach Paul Brown of his plans. Colo said he wanted Brown to know before the player draft held in Philadelphia on Monday.

"I figured my retirement might make some difference in his draft plans," said Colo, a veteran of nine years in pro football. He was traded to Cleveland by the Baltimore Colts in 1953.

Said Coach Brown:

"His play has been important to us and we'll miss him.

"This is a decision every player must make sometime. It was typical of Don that he let us know before the draft so we could plan accordingly."

2 Inmates Mingle With Visitors And Walk To Freedom

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Two prisoners mingled with visitors and walked to freedom out the front door of the Winnebago County jail Tuesday.

The escape route from the fourth floor jail at one point brought the escapees face-to-face with an assistant state's attorney in the state's attorney's office.

But the fugitives, wearing street clothes, convinced an official they were helping the janitor.

Their escape cost jailer Roy Munson, 62, his job.

Sheriff Iver W. Johnson said Munson was careless and insubordinate in allowing Shockey and Lee to wriggle their way into the group of visitors.

Condition Of Oldest Cardinal Grows Worse

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The condition of 92-year-old Jose Maria Cardinal Caro, the Roman Catholic Church's oldest cardinal, grew worse today.

Cardinal Caro, the archbishop of Santiago, took to his bed Monday with an attack of toxic gastroenteritis. Symptoms of uremia and pneumonia developed.

Four doctors attending the aged prelate reported his temperature went up to 101 degrees early this morning and his pulse rate increased. He was reported being fed intravenously.

Chris von Saltza of Santa Clara, Calif., took four National AAU women's swimming titles during 1958. Three titles were in freestyling and one in backstroking.

Laborer Tells How Convict 'Shared' His Home 42 Days

PARSONS, Kan. (AP) — "You just don't take chances with six kids depending on you," said Wilbur March.

Thus the 41-year-old Parsons laborer explained why he kept silent while an escaped convict shared his home as an unwelcome guest for 42 days.

Acting on a tip from Mrs. March police Tuesday arrested Richard Lee Aligaier, 28, a St. Louis robber who escaped Oct. 18 from the Missouri Penitentiary. Aligaier was picked up while sipping beer in a Parsons tavern. He was unarmed and didn't resist.

Police also charged March with harboring a criminal after he signed a statement saying Aligaier made no direct threats to him. But the charge was dropped.

March later said Aligaier did threaten him.

"He told me that if he got picked up he would know what had happened and he had lots of friends," said March, an employe of a mausoleum firm.

Aligaier, who said he walked the 200-odd miles between the prison and Parsons, showed up at the March home Oct. 22, four days after he escaped.

"We first took him in because he was sick and hungry," said Mrs. March, prematurely gray at 33. "We have always helped people like that."

A week later, Aligaier told them he was a fugitive.

"From then on he always had one of us with him," she said, weeping as she recalled the experience.

Accused Slayer Due To Take Stand Today

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Clarence R. Anshutz, 38, on trial for first-degree murder, is expected to take the witness stand today.

Anshutz' appearance in Belmont County Common Pleas Court is expected to wind up the defense's case.

He is accused of fatally shooting his common law wife last Aug. 18.

Insurance Men Warned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Insurance agents who are always late turning into their companies insurance premiums they collect from policy holders may have their licenses revoked, says State Insurance Supt. Arthur I. Vorys. Vorys said some auto insurance companies have resorted to cancelling policies on which they have not received premiums although the insured has paid the premium to the agent.

Red Kelly of the Detroit Red Wings is the only National Hockey League defensemen to score three goals in one game. He did it against the Boston Bruins in 1954.

Baseball Magnates Oppose Players' Salary Demands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Baseball magnates today formed an angry, united front against the major league players' bid for a cut of the owners' income and minor leaguers' demands for a pension plan.

The big league players, already bulwarked by a pension plan supported by World Series radio and television money, jolted their employers Tuesday with a salary proposal calling for 20 per cent of each club's gross revenue.

At the same time, International League executives were shocked by the threat of a strike by their players after the officials' refusal to buckle to an ultimatum by the athletes' lawyer.

"You will accept the pension plan or you will not have International League baseball," Atty. James Durante was reported as saying.

"The International League directors are fully sympathetic to the players' request," said Frank Horton, president of the Rochester club, who reported Durante's words.

But Horton added the directors "could find no way, within the economic framework of the league to raise the more than a quarter of a million dollars to underwrite a pension plan."

Durante had informed the International League the players had resolved not to sign 1959 contracts nor to report to spring training until the pension plan was accepted. As outlined by Durante, it would cost $293,000 annually. The blueprint called for the players to pay $37,000 ($1.50 a day per player), with the league putting up the remaining $256,000 or $32,000 per club.

At least one owner, Tom Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox, hinted he might pull out of baseball if the players continued to press for what he termed exorbitant demands.

Earlier, the players changed tactics when their attorney J. Norman Lewis and their 16 team representatives withdrew their original request for 25 per cent of the regular season radio and television receipts of the two leagues.

The players then shot back with their 20 per cent of gross receipts plan.

Colo Of Browns Plans Retirement After '58 Season

CLEVELAND (AP) — Tackle Don Colo, captain of the Cleveland Browns, says he is retiring from professional football at the end of this season.

"I have been thinking about the move for sometime but made the decision only a few weeks back," said the 6-4 255-pound defensive lineman. He will go to work with a local trucking firm.

Colo is the second veteran Browns' defender to announce his retirement. Halfback Don Paul said recently this is his last season.

After last Sunday's game with the Washington Redskins, Colo told Coach Paul Brown of his plans. Colo said he wanted Brown to know before the player draft held in Philadelphia on Monday.

"I figured my retirement might make some difference in his draft plans," said Colo, a veteran of nine years in pro football. He was traded to Cleveland by the Baltimore Colts in 1953.

Said Coach Brown:

"His play has been important to us and we'll miss him.

"This is a decision every player must make sometime. It was typical of Don that he let us know before the draft so we could plan accordingly."

2 Inmates Mingle With Visitors And Walk To Freedom

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Two prisoners mingled with visitors and walked to freedom out the front door of the Winnebago County jail Tuesday.

The escape route from the fourth floor jail at one point brought the escapees face-to-face with an assistant state's attorney in the state's attorney's office.

But the fugitives, wearing street clothes, convinced an official they were helping the janitor.

Their escape cost jailer Roy Munson, 62, his job.

Sheriff Iver W. Johnson said Munson was careless and insubordinate in allowing Shockey and Lee to wriggle their way into the group of visitors.

Condition Of Oldest Cardinal Grows Worse

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The condition of 92-year-old Jose Maria Cardinal Caro, the Roman Catholic Church's oldest cardinal, grew worse today.

Cardinal Caro, the archbishop of Santiago, took to his bed Monday with an attack of toxic gastroenteritis. Symptoms of uremia and pneumonia developed.

Four doctors attending the aged prelate reported his temperature went up to 101 degrees early this morning and his pulse rate increased. He was reported being fed intravenously.

Chris von Saltza of Santa Clara, Calif., took four National AAU women's swimming titles during 1958. Three titles were in freestyling and one in backstroking.

Laborer Tells How Convict 'Shared' His Home 42 Days

PARSONS, Kan. (AP) — "You just don't take chances with six kids depending on you," said Wilbur March.

Thus the 41-year-old Parsons laborer explained why he kept silent while an escaped convict shared his home as an unwelcome guest for 42 days.

Acting on a tip from Mrs. March police Tuesday arrested Richard Lee Aligaier, 28, a St. Louis robber who escaped Oct. 18 from the Missouri Penitentiary. Aligaier was picked up while sipping beer in a Parsons tavern. He was unarmed and didn't resist.

Police also charged March with harboring a criminal after he signed a statement saying Aligaier made no direct threats to him. But the charge was dropped.

March later said Aligaier did threaten him.

"He told me that if he got picked up he would know what had happened and he had lots of friends," said March, an employe of a mausoleum firm.

Aligaier, who said he walked the 200-odd miles between the prison and Parsons, showed up at the March home Oct. 22, four days after he escaped.

"We first took him in because he was sick and hungry," said Mrs. March, prematurely gray at 33. "We have always helped people like that."

A week later, Aligaier told them he was a fugitive.

"From then on he always had one of us with him," she said, weeping as she recalled the experience.

Accused Slayer Due To Take Stand Today

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Clarence R. Anshutz, 38, on trial for first-degree murder, is expected to take the witness stand today.

Anshutz' appearance in Belmont County Common Pleas Court is expected to wind up the defense's case.

He is accused of fatally shooting his common law wife last Aug. 18.

Insurance Men Warned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Insurance agents who are always late turning into their companies insurance premiums they collect from policy holders may have their licenses revoked, says State Insurance Supt. Arthur I. Vorys. Vorys said some auto insurance companies have resorted to cancelling policies on which they have not received premiums although the insured has paid the premium to the agent.

Red Kelly of the Detroit Red Wings is the only National Hockey League defensemen to score three goals in one game. He did it against the Boston Bruins in 1954.

Ohio Boy With Tumor Back Home Where He Wants To Be

LOGAN, Ohio (AP) — Kenneth Ucker, 11, is back where he wants to be—home.

Home in Logan is where he pitched two no-hit ball games for his Little League baseball team.

Home is where he will die in a few days of a malignant tumor.

Kenneth, his father, Paul, 32, and mother, Charlene, 28, and 3½-year-old brother, Marty, moved from Logan to California last August. They settled in El Cajon, a suburb of San Diego. Paul Ucker got a job as a linotype operator on a weekly newspaper in LeMesa.

Three weeks ago, Kenneth entered a hospital after complaining of a stomach ache.

"I thought he was just homesick," his mother recalled. "He hated for us to leave Logan."

An exploratory operation revealed the boy had an inoperable cancerous tumor of the kidney. Doctors said he probably will die before Christmas.

Kenneth was told only that he had his appendix out. Friends in Logan raised the money to bring the boy back to Logan to die because as Kenneth put it, "that's the best place to be."

He arrived in Columbus Tuesday by plane. It was his first airplane ride. "It was a smooth trip," he said, "but I got juggled around on landing."

He was transferred to a limousine and driven the last 50 miles to Logan southeast of Columbus.

What did he miss most in California? "The snow," he said looking around at the white drifts left from the season's first snowfall.

The first thing he wanted to do when he could get up was to throw a snow ball.

Famed Surgeon Dies

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Dr. Ernest Sachs, 79, internationally known neurosurgeon, died Tuesday after a short illness. Dr. Sachs, former president of the American Neurological Assn. wrote more than 200 books and articles. He taught at Washington University in St. Louis and Yale Medical School.

Reserve Land Contract Effective On April 15

C. C. Herron, chairman of the Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said new conservation reserve contracts now being signed by Hancock farmers will in general become effective April 15, 1959.

All contracts require that the land included be devoted to grass, trees or a water or wildlife conservation practice. If the conservation practice to be used on the designated land is performed before April 15, the contract becomes effective at the time the practice is completed.

This means that 1958 crops on land put in the conservation reserve this fall can be harvested before the contract goes into effect. In addition, the land put in the reserve for the first time this fall may be grazed until the contract goes into effect. After the contract goes into effect the farmer agrees not to graze the land or harvest a crop from it. He also agrees to refrain from harvesting Christmas trees and ornamentals from conservation reserve land on which forest trees have been planted.
